Jurors convict Maeras, others.

Closing of prosecution

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Federal prosecution of former sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper and fund-raiser Leland Stoller ended with final arguments and a final rebuttal Friday in the U.S. District Court at Alton.

Assistant U.S. Attorney John Carver summarized the case the government sought to prove during the past three weeks of testimony.

Carver reviewed the testimony of several government witnesses, including former prostitution operator Charlene "Kitty" Young who was told by a deputy in the spring of 1971 that two men from the sheriff's office would be by to see her.

She testified that Ronald Grzywacz and Cooper came to her home, demanded $300 a week for protection from paid by the sheriff's office and then settled on a figure of $50 per week. That figure later was raised from $75 and then to $100 a week, she testified.

She said payments totaled about $10,000 to $12,000 and that once she saw her husband, Walter Young, give an envelope of money to Maeras, because he wanted to be sure the money was going to the sheriff, Carver recalled.

Supporting her testimony, according to the prosecutor, was Onil Outman, a friend of the Young family, who said she admitted Grzywacz and Cooper to the Young home when they demanded money, and later saw Walter Young take an envelope from the Club J cash register outside for Grzywacz.

The Young's daughter, Robin Young, testified she overheard her father tell Cooper and Grzywacz in their home, "I won't pay." Carver related Robin Young also remembered her parents separating money on several occasions into two envelopes, one for petty cash and the other into an envelope marked "Man."

Myranda Stewart, who operated prostitution at Myranda's Steakhouse in Alton, testified that in 1971, Grzywacz

Sentencing is set for Friday, April 6, for former Madison County sheriff John Maeras, 52, Madison, Capt. John Cooper, 51, Granite City, and Leland Stoller, 41, Madison, Tenn., who were convicted by a federal jury in Alton Sunday of conspiring for racketeering and mail and wire fraud. Maeras and Cooper also were convicted of making and causing to be made false statements to federal authorities.

A jury of nine men and three women returned its verdict of guilty against the three at 1:50 p.m. Sunday after an estimated 17 hours of deliberations.

The case first went to the jury at about 8:30 p.m. Friday, following closing arguments by both sides. The jury then was taken to dinner and did not begin its deliberations until 8:50 p.m. Friday.

Due to the long day of closing arguments, the judge ordered the jurors sent to bed at 10:30 p.m. Friday, with a federal marshal outside their doors.

Deliberations resumed at 9 a.m. Saturday and continued until midnight, breaking only for lunch and dinner. On Sunday, consideration of the case by the jury resumed at 11 a.m. and the verdict was reached at 1:50 p.m.

Maeras, Cooper and Stoller were freed after U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman continued their recognizance bonds until sentencing.

The conviction followed 13 days of

The three were indicted Nov. 28, 1978, by a federal grand jury in Springfield which was studying implications brought out during the June and July 1978 trial of former Madison policemen Ronald Grzywacz and Edward Goclan and suspended L.L. Richard Krieschok.

During that trial, witnesses alleged Grzywacz was accepting payoffs from houses of prostitution and towing firms as part of an investigation he was conducting, allegedly for Maeras. Cooper accompanied Grzywacz on many occasions when money was given, it was alleged.

Those convictions led to grand juries investigating Maeras and Cooper and, ultimately, Stoller, who was accused of giving Maeras 10 percent of funds raised for the Madison County Deputy Sheriffs' Association for dances and advertisements in dance and drug books.

Stoller and his firm, Lee Stoller Enterprises, Inc., of Nashville, Tenn., were named in an indictment against Maeras, Cooper, Stoller and Stoller's firm which superseded a previous indictment against Maeras and Cooper only.

The first indictment alleged Maeras and Cooper made false statements to federal agents investigating the kick-back scheme, but did not accuse them

Closing of the defense

Confusion by several, conflicting statements and dates, and other "holes" in the government's case against former sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department and fund-raiser Leland Stoller were used by defense attorneys at Alton Friday to attempt to put a reasonable doubt in the minds of jurors before they began deliberations.

Attorney Bruce Cook, defending Maeras, noted the government said when the trial began Feb. 5 that this would be "a simple case." He said he agreed and contended it was "a simple case of 'get the sheriff.'"

"Put another notch on (assistant prosecutor) Cass Weiland's gun. He's a specialist—a hired gun," Cook stated, telling the jury, "You're here to convict Maeras—to do your job."

He accused federal prosecutors of knowing since June 1977 that Sgt. Gary Lee Burns of the sheriff's office was responsible for successful prostitution raids on the OK Cafe, the Marco Polo Lounge and the final raid on the Club J. Cook stated, "I'm not going to tell you that John Maeras is the best or brightest sheriff Madison County has ever had," but added that a great deal of good was done during his term.

"John Maeras is a duke and is the subject of an elaborate frame," he added. Cook contended several deputies lied about Maeras. He said deputies under George Musso did not like it when Maeras became sheriff because "he rocked the boat. They had a nice little thing going. They were getting $6 per

Lieut. Clemons abducted, freed

Robert W. Douglas, 24, Roxana, killed himself when police surrounded him in Edwardsville after he released a Madison County sheriff's deputy he had been holding hostage and wrecked a stolen car.

Lieutenant Delbert Clemons of the sheriff's department, who had been Douglas' hostage, said Douglas aimed a gun at him at the Madison County jail at about 9:45 p.m. Saturday, saying he would not return to prison and would kill Clemons and himself if cornered.

Clemons, 34, Godfrey, a former Madisonian, had stopped Douglas' car in Cottage Hills at 9:20 p.m. Saturday for an alleged loud muffler. A routine wanted in connection with the armed robbery of a Bethalto Pizza Hut restaurant last fall. He was described as a former convict.

Clemons handcuffed Douglas and drove him to the County Jail. A routine shakedown of the prisoner failed to indicate a small pistol was hidden in his boot. Clemons said he felt through the thick leather boot, but detected only what he felt were bones. "I'll know next time to have prisoners remove their boots," Clemons told newsmen.

The prisoner was left with jailers in the booking room of the county jail at

Rape prevention to be taught here

The Madison Board of Education on Thursday evening tentatively approved a Madison Junior Service Club request to sponsor a program of rape prevention education for the young women at Madison High School.

The board approved the idea providing a member of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Center is present for a question-and-answer period at each instruction session.

The program is to be presented several times in one day to small groups of girls.

The board authorized the Madison County Urban League, working through high school counselors, to present a job orientation program which includes training in properly filling out job application forms.

At the request of Dolores Folkerts, chairman of the school district's Community Relations Committee, the committee was authorized to present its ideas on improving community relations at the next meeting of the board.

The board hired Ronald Stern as a part-time security guard for Madison High school during evening hours when Belleville Area College classes are in session.

Restrictions on Venice school board members

An amendment of policy on handling complaints by the public was adopted Thursday night by the Venice Board of Education at its regular meeting.

The board also reiterated its existing policy relating to redress of grievances against district personnel and the proper channels to be followed in an effort to gain a solution prior to action by the board.

Additionally, the board also stated its policy regulating access to school buildings by board members.

Questions about some board members being observed in buildings at various times had been discussed at an earlier meeting. Supt. of Schools Robert Vickers explained.

Existing policy regarding public complaints involving instruction, discipline, personnel or learning materials must first be referred to the teacher, and then the principal and superintendent before being brought before the board, with any complaint against school personnel being investigated by the administration before consideration and action by the board.

Hearing on GC schools

Should Granite City schools try to balance their operating costs with available revenue? If so, should this be accomplished by closing the Stallings, Washington and McKinley grade schools? Are there other cost cuts that should be tried instead?

The subject will be discussed by citizens at a Community Unit School District Nine public hearing at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the auditorium at Granite City High School South, 3101 Madison Ave.

Those wishing to address the Board of Education and administrators will be called to a microphone for testimony of five minutes or less each. Those speaking must complete a testimony form and voice their name as well as their comments.

Persons wishing to convey their views but not to do so verbally may outline them on a testimony form.

A spokesman adds, "Written testimony will be appreciated. Please present it when called to the microphone to testify."

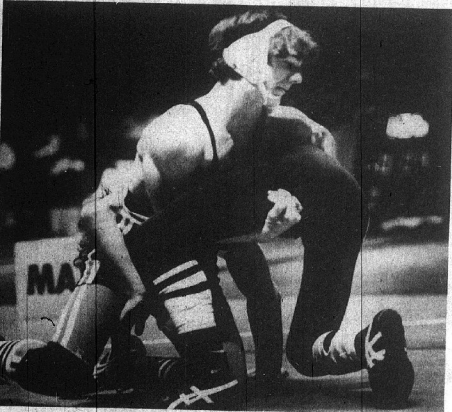

"No one will have an opportunity to speak a second time until after all others wishing to speak have been heard."

BILL POLLEY

2 in JA finals

Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley has announced that Bill Polley, 825 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, and Mary Beth McGarrahan, 1226 Oriole Ave., Venice, are finalists in the Mr. and Miss JA competition.

Both reached the final five after competing against representatives from 300 area Junior Achievement companies.

Both attend Granite City Junior Achievement Business Center at 3307 Washburn Ave.

Polley has been in JA two years and is president of "Pazz Co.," counseled by Granite City Steel.

Pazz manufactures fire extinguishers and bath salts.

He has received many awards, including attaining $500 in sales, outstanding junior, and a finalist in last year's officer-of-the-year competition.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Polley. Mary Beth McGarrahan has been in JA three years and is president of "B.Q. Smokers," also sponsored by Granite City Steel. B.Q. manufactures barbecue pits.

She has attended several JA conferences, has been awarded the outstanding junior title and the junior executive award, and is currently president of the Granite City Achievers Association.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGarrahan.

Mr. and Miss JA will be announced in March at the 29th annual Junior Achievement is an economic education program reaching 8,500 high school students in the St. Louis area, including several hundred Quad-Cities.

Reprimands for levee employees

Two employees of the Metro-East Sanitary District will be reprimanded and appropriate action taken for unauthorized use of the district's furniture, a pickup truck and work time, the Board of Commissioners decided during a meeting in Washington Park Wednesday.

A photographer "caught" the two removing district furniture from the burned-out campaign headquarters of East St. Louis Mayor William E. Mason Tuesday and loading the furniture into a district truck.

Board President Russell Robinson of Granite City ordered District Executive Director A. Wendell Wheldon to take "drastic action" against the two employees.

Robinson also alleged that the loan of the equipment to Mason was arranged by Sanitary District Commissioner Robert Eastern of East St. Louis.

Also during the meeting, Commissioner David Bergfield announced he is attempting to get approval from appropriate federal and state agencies to lease about 700 acres of district property, most of it along the Hartford Canal, to ranchers for grazing purposes.

He said it would reduce the expenses of mowing and weed control, as well as increase the district's income.

During a meeting

Tuesday, the board negotiated with farmers who want to lease other property along levees throughout the district and agreed that the lease agreements should range from three to five years at a cost of $30 per acre per year. Final arrangements on the leasing of nearly 1,000 acres for farming are expected to be made in the near future.

The district purchased tax anticipation warrants totaling $760,000 Wednesday. The warrants provide $600,000 for the general fund, $100,000 for the municipal retirement fund and $60,000 for liability insurance.

Hearts, flowers theme of dance

The New Ecclesia Adult Organization of St. John United Church of Christ sponsored a dinner-dance at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville, Mike Manro's "All Occasions" band provided music after a buffet dinner.

White carnations for men and red satin hearts for women were used to carry out a "hearts and flowers" theme.

The New Ecclesia is taking orders for note cards with a sketch of the church on the front of each card.

Next event for the organization will be a "crazy bowl" and pot luck dinner in March.

PONTON CANDIDATES
There were no withdrawals among candidates for Ponton Beach Village Board positions as the deadline for withdrawing passed last week. On the ballot will be two full tickets, headed by Paul Bennett and Donald Patrick, and an independent trustee candidate, Mark A. Lakatos.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS

By RUSS WALKER

The bloodstone is a lovely green stone, dotted with red. In early times, people scraped the red spots from blood from bloodstones and applied the scrapings to wounds, to stop bleeding.

Nowadays, people wear bloodstones for their unique beauty and because they are the birthstone for March.

Growth by the Colonial Bank

At the third annual stockholders' meeting of the Colonial Bank of Granite City last week, held in the lobby of the bank, 74 percent of the shares outstanding were represented either in person or by proxy. The following 12 directors were elected:

Charles D. Kacaleff, Paul H. Lichtenberger, Carl A.

Ranft, John W. Reese, Henry W. Ross, Robert J. Swiatek, Jon Tarpoft, Donald E. Van Horn, George T. Wilkins Jr., George T. Wilkins Jr., Melvin C. Wilmsmeyer and Charlie D. Withers.

Chairman Lichtenberger discussed the growth of the bank and thanked stockholders for their continued support during the past year. The chairman introduced Donald E. Van Horn, president, who gave a progress report on the bank's growth during 1978 by utilizing a series of financial charts. He pointed out that total assets had grown to $8,265,231 by year's end.

The director's

organizational meeting was held immediately following the stockholders' meeting.

The following officers were elected: Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman; Donald E. Van Horn, president; Dorothy J. Burton, cashier; James M. Collins, consumer loan officer.

PAUL R. BOWER

House-to-house drive for multiple sclerosis funding

The continuing fight against a major health problem, multiple sclerosis, will go into high gear on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, March 3, 4 and 5, when local volunteers call house-to-house throughout the Quad-Cities, seeking financial support of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

David Fox, vice-president, First Granite City National Bank, and chairman of the local drive, said Friday, "The Society needs and deserves our support in order to continue its research into the cause and cure, and to maintain the many patient services it provides to MS patients in the chapter area."

The cause of multiple sclerosis is unknown and there is neither a prevention or cure. The disease strikes the central nervous system, the brain and the spinal cord, and yet it is not a mental disease and is not contagious.

"It is usually diagnosed in adults between the ages of 20 and 40, just at the time when young families are growing and promising careers are building. It can lead to severe disability, ranging from vision impairment to bladder and bowel difficulties, and often involves serious loss of mobility."

Fox concluded, "We want to recognize and thank the many community volunteers upon whose efforts the success of this drive depends. They are your friends and neighbors who recognize the importance of the work of the Society, and volunteer their time each year to help in house-to-house solicitation. When one rings your doorbell, please give your support."

New musical will be given

A new musical comedy, "But Shirley Fairweather!", will make its premiere on the stage at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville March 8-11, according to William Vilhauer, chairman of the department of theater and dance.

Performances are scheduled March 8, 9 and 10 at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building theater. A matinee will be presented Sunday, March 11 at 2:30 p.m.

"But Shirley Fairweather!" was written by Deirdre Barber, an English actress and playwright.

Music is by Stephen Brown, faculty member in the School of Fine Arts and Communications at the university, with lyrics by Paul Gaston, faculty member in the department of English language and literature. The play is being directed by Alvin Wille, director of dance at the university.

Placed in a setting near an English university, the story revolves around members of the university's faculty, particularly an English professor who writes a romantic novel under an assumed name. Hilarity results as he tries to maintain his secret identity.

Playing the role of the English professor is Kevin Paul (Hofeldt), an alumnus of the SIUE theater

Orsey honored in publication

Dennis James Orsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Orsey, of Granite City, has been selected for inclusion in the 1978-79 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

A recognized publication of the American academic community, this Who's Who confers awards annually on outstanding student leaders.

A third-year law student at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, he is a candidate for the degree of juris doctor in May. After graduation, Orsey hopes to return to the Granite City area to practice law.

Selections for Who's Who are made by campus nominating committees and based on academic standing, community service, leadership ability and future potential.

Placed on probation

Douglas J. Reinhardt, 21, of 31 Moorland Drive, pleaded guilty to theft at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at the court in Granite City and was given one year on probation and ordered to pay $40 in court costs.

Arrested in the 2900 block of Nameoki Drive Feb. 21, he was charged with theft in connection with an incident at Mr. Donut, 3134 Nameoki Road, occurring Sunday, Feb. 18. At that time, a man who held his hands in his pockets took $94 cash from an employee, Linda Kerr, who was alone in the store. Reinhardt was released upon payment of court costs.

Charge men with damage

A resident in the 2700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, Mrs. Sharon Reisinger, reported at 2:10 a.m. Sunday she had just seen two men break windows in her automobile, which was parked across the street in a parking lot.

Police searched the area and stopped two men walking across Nameoki Road.

Charged with criminal damage to property were Ricky Lyn Cox, 22, of 2124 Dewey ave., and John Phillip Brooks Jr., 18, 2528 Missouri Ave.

Cox was released on payment of $35 cash bond at 3:35 a.m. Sunday. Brooks was released at 10 a.m. Sunday on notice to appear for a hearing at a later date.

Venice woman robbed of purse

Mrs. Florence Matthews, 307 Weaver St., Venice, was walking in the 1000 block of Calhoun Street, Venice, at 6:25 p.m. Saturday when a man in his early 20s grabbed her purse and, after she tried to fight him off, ran away. The man was described as about six feet tall, 175 to 180 pounds, and wearing a cap and Army jacket.

A total of $38 cash and a $50 food order were in the purse. Mrs. Matthews told officers.

GARAGE BURGLARY
Assorted carpenter's tools and other miscellaneous tools were taken from the garage at the home of James Purcell, 2548 Harding Ave., in a burglary reported at 9:15 p.m. Thursday. Entry was gained through a broken window.

Demonstrate retro hair

Elite Hairdressers Affiliate 33 will present a special program at 6:30 p.m. today at the Round Table Restaurant on Highway 157 in Collinsville.

Of interest to area beauticians, who are invited to attend, the focus of the program will be "Retro Hair," the newest trend in hair styling for the spring and summer months.

Reservations may be made for tonight's event by calling Sheila Morgan, Affiliate 33 president, at 876-5432, or Joyce Kotoff, at 452-1142.

Top hair designers in the country, all members of the Official Hair Fashion Committee, introduced the Retro Hair style at the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists convention held at the Aladdin Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., earlier this month.

Several members of the local affiliate attended the national conference, including Wilhelme Gregory, Mary Schiller, Judy Broshow, Michael Hopke, Jolene Prewett, Dorothy Line and Helen Robins.

Edith Head, still considered the top designer of glamour clothes in Hollywood, was commentator for a fashion show. She also presented many gowns from her collection of those worn in past movies.

The local beauticians attended work shop sessions, dealing with skin care, nutrition, hair color concepts, make up, art principles, spring-summer hair happenings and "dollars and sense."

They reported the newest designs emphasize short hair with an asymmetrical bang, low over one eye.

Soft, smooth waves or bouncy curls in various lengths is the trend for 1979 spring and summer, "with less of everything, except chic, and more sophistication than has been seen for many years. Brevity is the key," those attending the convention reported.

In addition to the demonstration, a guest speaker will discuss advantages of a retirement program now available to beauticians and those self employed in the hairdressing field, Mrs. Morgan said.

Educational programs and special activities for the coming 12 months also will be reviewed at the meeting.

News notes

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott (R) will run in 1980 for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Adlai Stevenson (D).

Big contributors to former Gov. Daniel Walker's campaign treasury got lucrative consulting contracts with the state, Illinois Audit General Robert Cronson charged Friday.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled Thursday that foster children placed in relative care must be given the same federally-subsidized welfare aid as those in the custody of strangers. The 8-0 decision strikes down Illinois' and 12 other states' policy of providing lower benefits in such cases.

The annual telethon to aid handicapped children in this metropolitan area raised $701,041 in pledges yesterday.

Snow predicted for Saturday afternoon and evening missed this area but created an emergency in Southern Illinois and Southeastern Missouri, totaling 12 to 20 inches and leaving wind-swept drifts all over the area. SUC has closed, along with many roads and highways.

United Auto Workers President Douglas Fraser said Friday the 820,000 members will receive a 13-cent hourly cost-of-living raise in March, increasing to $1.16 an hour the amount of COL hikes since 1976.

The Illinois Liquor Control Commission has no investigators south of Interstate 80, leaving no liquor license inspections in three-quarters of the state.

Inept administration is blamed for the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services losing $30 million in available federal aid and jeopardizing another $60 million.

A federal judge on Friday cited personal ties with a federal prosecutor and with Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott in disqualifying himself from hearing any more motions in a U.S. grand jury investigation of Scott's campaign funding.

The AFL-CIO called Saturday for laws to limit corporate power and crack down on bribery, mergers, energy conglomerates, lobbying and consumer fraud.

Residents of the south side of Blue Spruce Court and the north side of Reta Court are scheduled to pay a sanitary sewer taxes but aren't assured of service. County Board members are being told by Nameoki Precinct Five Committeeman Helen Hawkins, who urges faster determination of the sewer routing rather than waiting until the installation project is 95 percent complete.

"Oklahoma" will be presented by GCHS North vocal and speech students Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. in the South auditorium.

Final day to display old auto license plates is Wednesday. Those who lack new plates must have an application receipt to avoid arrest starting Thursday.

Area mayors will hear Lieut. Gov. David O'Neal at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Sunset Hills Country Club.

74th anniversary of Rotary International

Rotary International is celebrating worldwide the 74th anniversary of the service club during February.

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., program chairman at last week's Granite City Rotary luncheon, recalled, "I was born Jan. 16, 1905, and both Rotary and the Boy Scouts came into existence in February, which makes me just a little older than both these two fine organizations."

Dr. Wilkins, a past district governor of Rotary, introduced a fellow past district Rotary governor, Kenneth Evers, who presented a slide program on the public image of Rotary.

Evers emphasized importance of the public's view of a Rotary club.

He also spoke on a Rotary International program, Health, Hunger and Humanities.

Rotarian Bill H. Terrell, membership chairman, announced a new membership drive which will end July 1.

The club has a current membership of 80, with a goal of 100.

He divided the club into "A" and "B" divisions; the division that recruits the most members will be treated to a steak dinner, while the losing team will eat cold beans.

The club discussed its annual chili day Tuesday, March 13, at Niedringhaus Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue. Lunch will be served from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and dinner from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m.

The Rotarians are currently selling tickets for $2 each.

Venice home invaded - armed men get $300

A home invasion and armed robbery occurred at 8:45 p.m. Friday when Mrs. Flo Sanders, 230 Weaver St., Venice, was threatened and then robbed of $300 by two men.

Venice police questioned several individuals during the weekend and are continuing the investigation today.

$1,000 taken at Clothes-to-you

A man apparently stole $1,000 cash and checks from the safe at Clothes-to-You, 6 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, at 2:35 p.m. Sunday.

A supervisor at the store said an employee saw the man, in his mid-20s, thin build with a medium Afro-style haircut, emerge from a rear room of the store, and say to a woman companion, "I can't go back there; she ran me out."

The man asked if the store sold men's pants and, when told "no," the couple left the premises.

The employee reported the incident to the supervisor, who checked the safe and found the money missing. The safe door was closed but was unlocked.

The woman companion was heavyset, wore her hair in an upweep and was about 24 years old.

VENICE CANVASS
The Venice Concerned Citizens organization began a door-to-door canvass and voter registration drive in Venice today and will continue until all homes in the city have been contacted, it was announced this morning.

TRANSFER PROGRAMS FOR HANDICAPPED

Gov. James Thompson signed an executive order Thursday to transfer Department of Children and Family Services programs which serve handicapped persons to the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Thompson said the transfer, effective July 1, will bring all vocational rehabilitation programs under one agency, provide for greater utilization of physical facilities, and increase continuity and coordination of services to the handicapped.

KILN-GAS DECISION

On Wednesday from 4 to 7 p.m. in Room C, third floor, Stratton Building, Springfield, the Illinois Energy Resources Commission will meet to decide on the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources' recommendation to authorize use of $18 million in coal development bond funds as the state's share in a proposed Kilgas Low-BTU Coal Gasification System. The TERC is mandated by law to approve or reject the recommendation made by the Institute for use of the funds.

Venice board

The amendment to this policy, adopted Thursday night, states: "When the avenue above has been followed and the complaining district resident still feels a need to address the Board of Education, the following procedures will be followed: "1. The complainant must furnish the board a written statement listing the specifics of the complaint. The statement must be signed by the person or persons making the complaint. "2. If the complainant wishes to address the Board of Education, contact must be made with the superintendent no later than 4 p.m. on the Friday preceding a regular board meeting.

Rape prevention

The security will be primarily to protect autos parked in the school lot and behind the high school building during class time.

Approval was given for Yvonne A. Ward and Suzanne M. Keppel, speech therapists, to attend a March 30-31 Speech and Hearing Association meeting in St. Louis.

Wade James, assistant superintendent of schools, was given permission to submit a Title IV proposal to the Illinois Office of Education in order for the district to obtain $7,050 to purchase library extension.

James praised the Madison Coordinated Youth Services for work it is doing with youths. He pointed out an example of a young man having problems at MHS, referred to the agency equivalency test and, according to James, did "very well."

A lengthy discussion on a milk serving cooler at Madison High was held. The board voted to have a metal bar with a lock placed on the cooler where the milk is served, so the milk will not have to be carried back to the main food cooler every day.

"Complainants will then be placed on the agenda and allowed a maximum of three minutes for an oral presentation. No more than three persons will be allowed to address the board in regard to any one written complaint.

"3. The board will conduct its investigation of the written complaints and within 15 days will reply in writing to the person or persons who signed the complaint."

The statement adopted regarding access to school buildings, reads:

"Board members have the same access rights to school buildings as members of the general public. During regular school hours all visitors are required — by order of the Board of Education — to obtain a permit from the superintendent's office.

"Board members who are on school premises during normal school hours should notify the superintendent's office of their presence.

"Board members should not be in school buildings on weekends unless they are on official business which has been approved by the Board of Education.

"Board members are not to be issued keys to school buildings for permanent possession, unless the board has voted to allow key possession by individual members.

"Board committees, etc., which may require keys for periodic admission to buildings, should make advance arrangements with the superintendent. "Members currently in possession of keys are to surrender them at the time this policy is approved by the Board of Education."

The amendment and policy statement were adopted by a unanimous vote of the board.

A complaining parent, however, was given permission to speak at the board session, even after the new policy statement was adopted.

Incidents concerning his daughter that occurred at the school were discussed by the parent, who admonished the administrators and board to take steps to verify the allegations, including talking with children in the classroom.

He said a principal "refused to arrange a meeting with a substitute teacher regarding the incident."

"What the board wants done in this case, we can do it," Supt. Vickers stated.

"Based on what the children have told you and what the district employees have said to me, I don't think the matter can be settled to your satisfaction."

"How does he prove it to you, that these incidents did not take place the way your children have told you?"

The parent said he felt it was important that an impartial investigation be made.

Supt. Vickers answered, "Well, I am going to defend these people you are talking about and I am not about to go into a classroom and question 50 kids about some incident."

The man said his 10-year-old daughter was "kicked by two boys who knuckled her to the floor, kicked her and beat her face. The teacher did nothing about it. This is what I'm complaining about," the parent said.

Jack Tolliver, board president, asked the parent to put the allegations in writing and to meet with the board at a later date to resolve the problem.

The parent also described other incidents relating to a staff member — one involving two girls being made to stand outside in the rain without coats, and an incident of "pushing children on school buses by the hair because they turned back to talk to friends."

U. S. ARMY ENGINEER DISTRICT, ST. LOUIS CORPS OF ENGINEERS

The Corps is planning several public involvement activities during the year for the Cahokia Canal Area Study. We plan to define the problems and needs of the area, to establish planning objectives and to start developing plans for solving the problems. This study will focus on interior flood problems and other land related problems.

The principal channel for drainage originates in the northwestern part as County Ditch and continues in a southerly direction. Where the creek channel has been improved and enlarged, it is designated as Cahokia Canal. It then flows in a southwesterly direction and enters the Mississippi River north of the East St. Louis Veteran's Bridge.

The principal tributary streams from the hillside areas include Judy's Branch, Burdick Branch, School House Branch and Canteen Creek. Surface runoff from the bottom lands also enters Horseshoe, McDonough and Long Lakes, as well as several sloughs and other low areas. These areas detain water and this permits the principal channels and the pumping station downstream to be sized smaller.

The total area tributary to the Cahokia Canal includes 43,841 acres of bottom land and 31,492 acres of hill land. Approximately 100,000 people resided in this area in 1970.

The population is concentrated in parts of GRANITE CITY, MADISON, VENICE, FAIRMONT CITY, COLLINSVILLE, MARYVILLE, GLEN CARBON, EDWARDSVILLE, MITCHELL and PONTON BEACH.

Although you may not live close to the Cahokia Canal, decisions to improve the area may affect you. Please join with your friends, neighbors and relatives and help us prepare the best plan of improvements.

$300 described as campaign gift

No improprieties occurred in fund drives for the former Madison County Deputies Association, jurors were told last week by Leland Stoller. He and John Cooper and former sheriff John Maeras were defendants in the three-week federal trial.

Asked by his attorney, Michael Costello, if he ever met with Cooper and Gary Lee Burns at the Blue Note Tavern in Edwauk, Stoller discussed a kickback of 10 percent for the sheriff. Stoller testified, "To my knowledge, no, I never heard of the Blue Note until it came up the other day."

He also testified that he never made an arrangement to pay 10 percent of the proceeds of solicitations to the sheriff and "never paid Maeras a penny," except for one campaign contribution of $300 in cash in the fall of 1972.

He said Burns delivered the $300 to the sheriff, saying it was a campaign contribution from Stoller. Asked if he often made campaign contributions to politicians, Stoller replied, "I made my share."

Stoller said the campaign contribution was given to Burns at the association's office in Granite City in front of Cooper and the secretary after Burns said he was collecting from businesses for Maeras' campaign.

"He suggested $500 and I told him I was a little short of funds at that time and gave him $300 cash," Stoller testified.

The witness estimated the dances and an anti-drug-abuse book his firm produced grossed a total of about $250,000 from 1971 to 1975, and said he is positive that 10 percent, or $25,000, wasn't paid to Maeras.

He also testified that Maeras' name was never mentioned during his contract talks with the members of the deputies' association. Stoller said that during the time the Madison County solicitations were under way, he was busy with numerous business activities, including about six other solicitations around the country, a photography business, an entertainment booking agency, a recording company and others.

He said one of his enterprises during that time was the 006 Detective Agency, which shared offices with the deputies' association and which was run by Cooper.

Stoller testified he put about $2,000 into starting the detective agency, but it never got "off the ground." The purpose was we thought it would be a profitable business. I put out the money and he (Cooper) had the knowledge," Stoller said.

He testified the detective agency started sometime in 1972 and lasted about one year, during which Stoller never saw any books or met any clients. He said he paid Cooper $100 a month for expenses, which included Cooper contacting other police agencies and suggesting that Stoller Enterprises be used for fund-raising activities.

Stoller said he had not met Ronald Grzywacz until Grzywacz testified at the trial last week.

In cross-examination, Weiland asked how many trips outside of Madison County Stoller made with Cooper to organize other fund-raising activities and Stoller estimated "at least 15." He named Memphis, Tenn., Indiana, Texas, Springfield and Decatur, Ill., as some of the cities they visited.

Weiland went through a detailed cross-examination of the record-keeping of Stoller Enterprises in Madison County and questioned several of the checks Stoller cashed for various reasons.

Among the checks questioned were checks either made to a John Allen or cashed by a John Allen of Granite City. Stoller said he thought Allen was a solicitor of donations to his corporation for some time.

A $500 check to Allen was for him to purchase door prizes for a dance, Stoller said he recalled. Another $500 check made out for "cash" and signed by Allen was used to purchase a camera for Stoller, he testified.

Weiland pointed out that Stoller told the U.S. Internal Revenue Service the $500 check to Allen was used to purchase liquor for deputies, and Stoller responded, "I don't recall."

Costello then rested the defense case on behalf of Stoller.

PROVOST TO SPEAK ON MISSION OF SILENCE Vice-President and Provost Earl E. Lazerson of SIUE, will discuss the institution's academic mission in his second annual address to the university community Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Lazerson will accept questions from the audience during a discussion session immediately following the address. Attendance and participation are being encouraged, he said. WSIE-FM (88.7), the campus radio station, will tape the address and discussion for broadcast at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday.

ALLEN JESSE
Executive Vice-President
GRANITE CITY TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK

At the bank, we're realistic. We know we need to make banking pleasant for our customers. And we know we have to make it efficient, too. People don't like waiting in line to get their hands on their own money. We don't blame them. And they don't like impersonal service, either.

Our bank is large enough to have a strong financial base, which is the first requisite for any business operation. And it's hard-nosed enough to insist on efficiency, which results in more convenience for our customers. But it's also small enough to present an atmosphere of courtesy and concern for the personal financial interests of every customer.

Good service, with a minimum of waiting, is our stock in trade. If you need help with any banking service, see any of our officers. When they advise you on financial aid... you can BANK on it!

Vasil Efthimoffs teletthon aides

Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Efthimoff, 2800 Michigan Ave., served again this year as members of the VIP panel on the Variety Club telethon.

The couple has served for the last nine years.

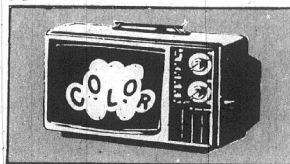

The Variety Club telethon was broadcast during the weekend, beginning Saturday night and running through Sunday afternoon. In the 12 years that the telethon has been aired, the Variety Club has raised over $5 million for emotionally and physically handicapped children. Last year's effort raised $752,000, which was distributed to 186 children's agencies and 84 day care centers.

CARGO NET offers endless opportunities. A unique exercise device is being used in the Granite City School District's physical education program under the direction of Leigh Heller. Children at Johnson School climb, swing, hang, twist and perform gymnastics on a huge cargo net. There are games and relays and a multitude of activities devised by the physical education teacher, Dot Bailey, at Johnson to encourage and develop physical coordination.

Meet here on repair of ice-damaged trees

A meeting to help the homeowner make decisions on "Repairing Trees Damaged from Ice This Winter" will be held Wednesday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillside, Edwardsville, Ill. The same program will be repeated on Thursday, March 8, at the Nameki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue, Granite City, at 7:30 p.m.

The program is sponsored by the University of Illinois Extension Service in Madison County. Joe Puent, Alton Parks Department, will cover what was done with the damaged trees from the 1976 ice storm in Alton. He also will discuss how to describe the type of work needed when having a tree repaired.

Marvin Kraut, Kraut Tree Service in South Roxana, will discuss how he counsels with homeowners on tree repair. He will go into detail on how to repair an ice-damaged tree and determine the cost of various tree repair options.

Bruce Egan, Belle Claire Tree Experts of Collinsville, will cover the practical financial alternatives that face a homeowner after a storm had damaged a tree.

He will go into insurance claims, tax credits, and other topics. Wayne Siefert, University of Illinois area adviser in ornamental horticulture, will discuss how to revitalize a damaged tree. He will note the top 20 trees for replanting in Madison County.

Time will be provided to ask individual questions on tree repair.

Car hits truck in dense fog

Dense fog was blamed for an accident at 7:15 a.m. Friday on Highway 3 at West Pontoon Road when an auto operated by David L. Sherrod, 28, of 71 Venice Homes, Venice, northbound on Highway 3, struck the trailer section of a truck crossing northbound lanes of the highway.

Sherrod's car apparently went under the rear wheels of the large truck, operated by Aubrey J. Morrow, Lebanon, Mo., who was unhurt.

Sherrod suffered a three-inch cut and multiple abrasions to the forehead and left wrist and an injury to the left arm. He was admitted for treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

2 injured at Fehling curve

An accident on Fehling Road just north of Bradley Avenue on Thursday resulted in injuries to the driver of one car, Michael A. MacMillan, 2532A State St., and a passenger in the second vehicle, William Lore, 51, of 2420 Angela Drive.

MacMillan's northbound auto started skidding on ice, crossed into the southbound lane and collided with a vehicle operated by Donald J. Moore, 2465 Lynch Ave., authorities were told.

MacMillan, 27, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with a hematoma to the head, lacerations to the forearms and abrasions.

Lore, in the Moore car, suffered an injury to the left knee and a bump on the head. He was treated at the hospital and released.

NATIONAL STEEL RAISES DIVIDEND Directors of National Steel Corp., at a meeting Wednesday, increased the regular quarterly dividend to 85 cents per share for the first quarter of 1979.

The previous regular quarterly dividend rate was 82 cents per share. The dividend will be payable March 15 to stockholders of record March 5. This is admitted for treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Confer on university leadership

Keith R. Sanders, professor of speech communication at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and chairman of the SIUC Chancellor Search Assistance Council, met Friday with heads of constituency groups at SIUC at Edwardsville.

Sanders discussed procedures which will be implemented by the Council in assisting the Board of Trustees in its nationwide search for a chancellor for the SIUC system.

He told the constituency heads, representing faculty, student, employee and alumni organizations, that they have until March 2 to submit panels of nominations to Sanders for the campus Search Committee which will be appointed to serve with six representatives from the Carbondale campus on the Chancellor Search Assistance Council.

The 12 members will be recommended by Sanders to the Board of Trustees for confirmation March 8.

Sanders also met Friday afternoon with former members of the Presidential Search Committee which conducted the search for the president of the local campus in 1976. The committee was headed by W. Deane Wiley, professor in the department of educational administration at SIUC.

Sanders said he hopes to learn from the experience of Wiley's committee, which conducted a comprehensive search to fill the position of president.

A target date of July 1 has been set for completion of the search for the chancellor. The position was created by the Board of Trustees Feb. 8 when it approved and implemented a centralized system of governance for the SIUC and SIUE campuses. The chancellor will assume policymaking roles that had previously been the responsibility of the campus presidents, including budgeting, finances and external relations.

James M. Brown, formerly general secretary of the Board of Trustees staff, is serving as acting chancellor until a permanent chancellor is appointed. The system's two presidents — Kenneth A. Shaw of SIUC and Warren Brandt of SIUE — are to continue as the chief executive officers of the respective universities, reporting to the chancellor.

Koenig to lead panel meetings

Victor H. Koenig, director-coordinator of the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency, will attend the U.S. Civil Defense Council mid-year conference in Washington, D.C., March 11-14.

As national membership chairman, Koenig will preside at a breakfast meeting of the State Representatives' and National Executive Committee, and also at a meeting of the National Membership Committee, Expenses of the party were authorized by the City Council.

INSTANT MONEY

Trinity Tabernacle pastor formerly a preaching sailor

The Rev. Curtis F. Hines has accepted a call to the Trinity Tabernacle Pentecostal Church of God, 2001 Sixth St., East Madison.

He and his family came here from Lebanon, Ind., where he was pastor at Faith Chapel Pentecostal Church of God for the past two years.

A U.S. Navy veteran of 20 years service, the Rev. Hines also has been a preacher for the same length of time, having spoken before congregations in Indiana and other locales.

He attended Clark College in Newton, Miss., and continued his Bible studies through various courses made available to him.

The Rev. Hines retired from the Navy in October 1975. He held the rank of boatswain's mate and was assigned primarily to sea duty on aircraft carriers, tenders and destroyers. He also served on submarines while they were in dry dock.

He and his wife, Alice E. Hines, are the parents of four children, Robert W. Hines, 23, of Lebanon, Ind., who is married and the father of two sons, Robert Jr., five years, and Nathan, six months; a daughter, Mrs. Michelle Strahm, 18, who is the wife of Martin Phillip Strahm, stationed at Cherry Point, N.C.; and two children at home, Steven A., 13, and Allison, 12.

Steven was born in Holy Loch, Scotland, where the family resided while the minister was based there in the Navy.

The Hines also reared three foster children. Two are now grown and the youngest, Teresa Hammons, 17, is with the family here.

Rev. Hines places special emphasis on youth work in the church and will teach the youth classes at his new church.

He and his family are occupying the "old" personage next to Trinity Tabernacle. He said that ladies of the church have done a "wonderful job of remodeling it."

"I don't believe I have ever seen a harder working group of ladies in my life," the new pastor commented.

REV. CURTIS F. HINES

this week, speaking of the Pentecostal Ladies Auxiliary of Trinity Tabernacle.

He said the Madison group is considered one of the "top auxiliaries in Illinois" and is becoming widely known for its various projects.

Of special interest, he noted, is the group's success at producing homemade peanut brittle to raise funds for worthwhile endeavors connected with the church.

Rev. Hines said he has learned the auxiliary members have made over 2,000 bags of the candy since starting the project in November.

He is extending an invitation to all Quad-City residents to visit the church and to attend any of the services or programs.

The Trinity Tabernacle schedule includes Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday, morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship at 7 p.m.

Midweek services will be held each Wednesday at 7 p.m.

The congregation numbers about 70 at present, and he and the church members are attempting to boost membership to 100 by mid-summer.

Trinity Tabernacle was without a pastor for three months until the Hines arrived this month. Rev. Hines succeeds the Rev. Charles Parker, who left here to serve in Arkansas.

LOOT MOBILE HOME

A television set, stereo equipment, including a tape recorder, and numerous bottles of prescription medication were taken during a burglary of the mobile home of Martha Cuff, 2019 Hildebrand Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, last week. A door was pried open to gain entry.

Pancake breakfast

A pancake breakfast will be held Sunday, March 4, from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. in the St. Elizabeth School cafeteria, Johnson and Pontoon Roads, by the Chokolia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, national honor camping society within the Boy Scouts of America.

Tickets are $1 for children under eight years of age and $2.25 for those over eight. Members of the Arrow are selling advance tickets, or they may be purchased at the door on the day of the event.

Rites for Arnold McIntosh

Word has been received here of the death of Las Vegas, Nev., of Arnold David McIntosh, 54, a native of Granite City.

Mr. McIntosh died Feb. 12, a short time after being taken to a Las Vegas hospital following an apparent heart attack.

He has been under medical care for a heart ailment since suffering a serious attack while visiting Hawaii about two years ago.

Mr. McIntosh was born, reared and educated in Granite City. He resided here until joining the U.S. Army, in which he served as a medical corpsman.

Mr. McIntosh owned and operated a delivery service and a heating and air-conditioning business in Las Vegas, where he had lived for 16 years. Previously, he resided in Peoria for several years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frankie McIntosh; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Beech of Las Vegas; two sons, Robert McIntosh of Peoria and Samuel McIntosh of Las Vegas; four sisters, Mrs. Irene Dorch of Granite City, Mrs. Betty Burian and Mrs. Delores Williams, both of St. Louis, and Mrs. Rosalie Brown of New Melle, Mo.; four brothers, Robert and Franklin McIntosh, both of Peoria, Curtis Dorch of Tulsa, Okla., and Larry Dorch of Las Vegas; and eight grandchildren.

Mr. McIntosh had returned to Granite City on many occasions to visit relatives and longtime friends. He was preceded in death by a son, Johnny McIntosh, who died at the age of six years.

Services were held Feb. 15 at a Las Vegas funeral chapel, with burial at Valley View Cemetery there.

The Lighter Side

For a perfect evening, a little help

Imagine, a perfect evening at home. At my house, such an event is rare, since some member of the household always seems to have a bad day.

But one particular evening last week could have come right out of the TV show "Family." Well, almost.

I arrived home to find the chicken dinner I had planned already started, music coming through the stereo system, and all homework done. The washer was happily whirling around, and the second load about finished. The dryer was also in full swing.

All of this activity, none of which was initiated by me, made my homecoming marvelous.

My husband and the boys were in the kitchen, all busily involved in helping out. I was in shock for the first few minutes.

I recovered after sitting down, reading my mail and having a cup of coffee. The whole situation made me wonder who had done what wrong, but I didn't ask.

About an hour later, dinner, dishes and laundry were finished, without a heck of a lot of work on my part. I was in such a jolly mood that I decided to bake cookies, from scratch, for Ross' cub scout meeting. My husband told me that he would also bake.

As I began pulling stuff out of the cupboards, he walked over to the refrigerator and pulled out some "cut it up and bake it" cookie dough.

"I bet I finish before you do," he teased. "Well," I countered, "when you get done with your store-bought cookies, I'll let you sample the 'real thing.'"

I got started, the music coming through to the kitchen from the living room. I began trying to break up some rock-hard brown sugar, pounding on it with a wooden spoon to the beat of Rod Stewart's "If You Think I'm Sexy."

The kids took up the beat and began to play their invisible instruments. Ross played bass and Dennis, horn.

My husband turned a pair of forks into drumsticks and we had our own little rock concert there in the kitchen, minus vocals. We let Rod take care of the words.

Between songs, I helped Ross work on his achievements for scouts. I doubt if he got them down 100 percent, but I signed his book anyway. (Don't tell his den leader.)

All of this craziness went on for almost two hours and, somehow, the cookies were baked before bedtime.

My husband's chocolate bakers came out great. My peanut butter crisscrosses? Well, they were okay, if you like lumps of brown sugar. Never did get all of the sugar softened. But it didn't matter.

It was a great way to spend an evening. I found out that cookie baking and rock music go quite well together. I also discovered that being a working mother can be easy, with a little help from my friends.

Theft of rental auto is charged

George E. Morgan, 24, of 7 Iris Court, was charged with theft in an informational document issued last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office, involving the alleged theft of a 1978 Ford T-Bird, taken at 11:25 p.m. Feb. 17 from Eddie's Lounge, 2900 Nantux Road.

The vehicle, owned by the National Car Rental System, 18th Street and Edison Avenue, had been parked in a drive-through lane at the tavern by Pat Rose, Rural Route 2. Shortly afterward, a man was seen getting into the car and driving it away.

The auto was stopped by officers at 1:45 a.m. Feb. 18 at 21st Street and Madison Avenue, and Morgan and a juvenile were taken into custody.

The juvenile was released to a relative.

Morgan also was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He appeared before a judge and bond was set at $2,500 on the theft charge. Morgan later was transferred by sheriff's deputies to the Madison County Jail upon issuance of a mittimus.

Interference with state prisons cited

A shortage of guards and increasing outside interference with prison operations are the major problems in running the riot-ridden Pontiac Correctional Center, two prison officials said last week.

Warden Don Harvey and guards' union president Fred Hornstein agreed the prison's security must be assured before conditions will return to normal.

Harvey and Hornstein made their comments at a corrections symposium at Illinois State University.

Pontiac is short 100 guards, with guard training assuming as much of the workload as they are allowed, Harvey said.

The situation exists because of the difficulties in recruiting prospective new guards.

"It's a drastic situation to try to hire people after the worst riot in the history of Pontiac," Harvey said. He predicted it may be years before the guard force is back at full strength.

Hornstein said many guard trainees quit before completing their six-month internships.

He blamed "watchdog groups" and expansion of prisoners' constitutional rights as factors that discourage the guards.

Ten years ago, Hornstein said, "the watchdog groups didn't have so much influence over prisons."

He contended the groups "tie the hands of the prison management by recommending procedure changes without fully investigating prison situations."

Hornstein also criticized a lawsuit pending before a federal court in Chicago that inmates have filed, seeking to end the "deadlock" in effect since the July 22 riots.

Inmates say the deadlock violates their constitutional rights.

"To say the Department of Corrections is violating constitutional rights is to condone these murders of July 22," Hornstein said. "But in a prison setting to have an investigation, you must have a deadlock."

Harvey said the deadlock, which kept prisoners in their cells 24 hours a day, was eased before December.

Small groups of prisoners at a time are now allowed out of their cells to participate in various activities, he said.

The issue here is restoration of full privilege activities," Harvey said of the inmates' lawsuit. "But we just can't provide these things now."

Harvey said he strongly supports improving the vocational, academic and recreational programs in the prison, but echoed Hornstein's statement that, "you must have security first."

"People have got to stop trying to make a penitentiary something other than what it is — a place to confine prisoners," Harvey said.

The warden said the best way to discourage trouble behind the walls is to keep prisoners busy.

Improvement of prison programs "would upgrade Pontiac 100 percent," he said.

He said it is possible for an inmate to get a bachelor's degree while at Pontiac.

Harvey said he admired the Texas prison system because prisoners remain occupied doing farm work, which supports the institution.

"Illinois prisons used to be self-sustaining, but then someone got the bright idea that urban folks don't know how to farm," he said.

Hornstein and Harvey agreed that while prison gangs are a problem at Pontiac, they aren't as prevalent there as at the Stateville Correctional Center.

Harvey blamed mandatory disciplinary committee hearings for making it harder to punish troublemakers. "I think it's best to lock them up for a few days and get it over with," he concluded.

Witnesses to convene

Jehovah's Witnesses in the Granite City area will be among 1,200 delegates attending a series of meetings to be held Saturday and Sunday, March 3 and 4, in their assembly hall at Loreda and Larimore roads in north St. Louis county.

Angelo Bruno, 2815 E. 25th St., spokesman for the Witnesses, said that Alvin L. Franck will be the principal speaker. Franck has served in the ministry with the Jehovah's Witnesses for over 40 years. His keynote address Sunday at 1:55 p.m. will be "A Cleansed Earth — Will You Live To See It?"

Franck will discuss why clean homes, surroundings and communities are appealing to most people, and will stress that spiritual cleanliness is even more desirable.

Bruno said, "A person reveals his true identity by his reaction to what is corrupt or unclean — vulgar jokes, noise-polluting music and immoral films. Therefore, the manner of life we lead today shows whether or not we want to live in a cleansed earth promised to us by our heavenly Father."

GRANITE CITY

Deadline March 5 on nurse refresher class

The Continuing Education Program in the SIUE School of Nursing will offer a six-week refresher program for inactive professional registered nurses at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City beginning March 13.

The course will provide an opportunity for inactive registered nurses to review and update their nursing knowledge and skills so they may return to practice in the adult medical and post-surgical area of nursing on a full-time basis.

Classes will meet Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays of each week. Three weeks of classroom instruction are scheduled from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., and three weeks of clinical work will take place from 6:45 a.m. until 3:15 p.m.

Registration for the course is $80. However, participants employed at St. Elizabeth for one year will have their tuition reimbursed. Deadline for registration is March 5.

Instructors are members of the hospital staff and will include Helen DeRuntz, coordinator of nursing education, and Donna Fisher, Pat McIlvoy, Pauline Canter and Steve Missey.

Topics to be discussed during the course include a review of common laboratory test and X-ray procedures, principles of pharmacology as they relate to the administration of drugs, intravenous therapy and electrolyte balance, and emergencies nurses may encounter in medical-surgical conditions.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Betty Boyd Walker, director of the Continuing Education Program in the SIUE School of Nursing at 692-3556.

South wrestlers 11th in state

Press-Record Sports

Mon., Feb. 26, 1979

Page 9

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — Addition Trail and Savanna won the team titles here Saturday night, but area wrestlers made their marks as well in the IHSA state wrestling tournament held at the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois... even though not as big a mark as in past years.
But you couldn't prove that by Dean Perkins.
Granite City South finished 11th in the Class 2A (large school) team totals with 32 points, well back of Addition Trail's 84. Savanna won the Class 1A (small school) championship with 75.5 points. Granite City North finished with two points while Belleville West finished 19th in 2A competition with 26 points.

Leading the way for GCHS
South were 145-pounder Dean Perkins who took third place honors and 126 pound grappler Barry Forshee who finished 6th.
A notable absentee from South's place-getters for South was 138-pound standout Sam Perkins, who finished second in the state at the weight last year. He was beaten in quarterfinal round action Friday night and in wrestlingback competition Saturday morning to be eliminated.

South's other state qualifier, 167-pounder Scott

Polson lost both his first round and wrestlingback matches.
South Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt said he was surprised that Sam Perkins didn't make it to the finals this season after finishing second last year. "Sam lost a close on in his wrestlingback attempt," said Schmitt. "It seems that we (South) haven't been able to win the close bouts this tournament."

Perkins didn't have to worry about a close match in his winner's bracket quarterfinal bout. The South-standout was pinned by

Bernard Giles of Chicago Heights Bloom in 3:48 of their 138 pound match. In the wrestlebacks, he lost a 3-2 decision to Garvin Smith of Moline.
How did the loss affect Perkins, normally a low-key individual? "Sam's the type of person who doesn't show a lot of emotion," said Schmitt. "But he's down right now. I think it's eating away at him inside."

What disappointment Sam Perkins may have felt might have been eased somewhat by the performance of his "little" brother, 145-pounder Dean. The spunky sophomore oozed confidence everytime he stepped onto the mat... with one exception, his semifinal bout with Jim Farina of East Layden.
Farina came into the match riding an 82-bout winning streak and was the 138 pound champion last season. In fact, it was Sam Perkins whom Farina defeated in that title bout last season (by a pin in 1:44).

Farina didn't pin Dean Perkins, but the outcome of the bout was never in doubt.
Farina won 10-5.
"I was going to make sure he didn't pin two Perkins'," said Dean. "I didn't have anything to lose when I went in there against him, so I gave it a shot."
South's Barry Forshee placed sixth in the state at 126 pounds. "I knew that

State tourney sidelights

Sense of humor scores Perkins

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — The state high school wrestling finals are held in the same Assembly Hall at the University of Illinois as are the basketball finals. Both are noisy events. Both attract thousands of fans from all around the state.
But that's where the similarities end.
Instead of having one game going on in front of 10,000 or so fans, there are six different "games" going on at once, with each with a small section of cheering fans in the stands.
The cheers and moans rise and fall through the spacious arena like a human pulse.
The tunnel area leading from the locker rooms to the main floor is constantly littered with dejected young men who have just lost a match, their coaches hovering over and trying to console them.

Granite City South Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt has participated in more state finals than most people could dream of. Have things changed in the tournament since the earlier days? "Not really," said Schmitt. "The equipment is a little more sophisticated, the Assembly Hall is very modern, but it's still a wrestling against wrestler."
"Kids don't want to lose any more now than they did 20 years ago."
The Class 1A (small school) championship won by Savanna was its fourth in the six years of 1A competition.
South's Dean Perkins could have been, excused Saturday if he said he felt a little tired. The day before, he lost over a cup of blood when he bit his tongue in a bout. It took a University of Illinois trainer nearly 45 minutes to get the bleeding stopped.
The main reason Dean
Perkins was picked to finish no higher than third was that he would have to face East Leyden's Jim Farina in the semifinals. He did. He lost, 10-5.
"I think Dean was a little embarrassed by the score," said Schmitt. "But he wasn't too awfully disappointed."
During the bout, a timeout was called by the mat official when Perkins' mouth began to bleed. "I thought it was the same thing that had happened Friday," said Schmitt.

The bleeding stopped and the bout continued. But during the timeout, Perkins motioned for Schmitt to come over for a conference.
What went on in the secret pow-wow?
"I asked, 'Is there anything wrong?'" said Schmitt. "He said, 'Yeah, coach, he's beating the crap out of me.'" Perkins feels a sense of humor is as important as anything in the sport. "I like to have fun in wrestling," he said. "If I can't laugh a little and have some fun, it's not worth it."
GCHS North Coach Walt Whitaker said he felt what a couple of his wrestlers need to be bonafide state tourney contenders next season is hard work. "The skills are there," he said. "They just need a little polish."

BARRY FORSHEE of GCHS South views the action from an unusual angle Saturday in the IHSA State Wrestling Tournament at the Assembly Hall in Champaign. Forshee finished sixth in the state at 126 pounds, while teammate Dean Perkins was a third-place finisher at 145 pounds. South finished 11th as a team.

South dumps Tigers

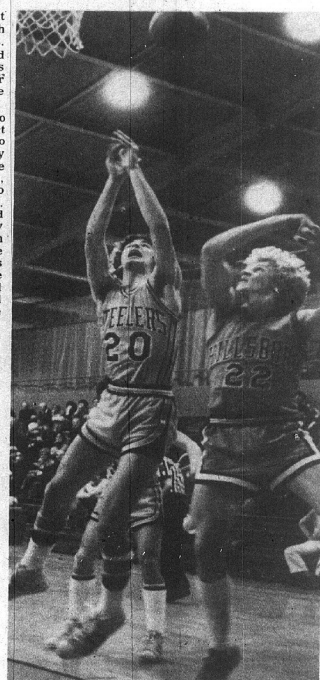

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY
Friday's game between Granite City South and Edwardsville was good old set-up, work-the-ball-in type of basketball. None of that run-and-gun stuff here.
The result was a close,
although low scoring, game, won by South, 59-56.
The victory raised South's record to 15-1, and dropped Edwardsville to 6-13. But in the case of the Tigers from Edwardsville, that mark in somehow deceiving. This was a typical for the Tigers, who have been on the bottom of more than their share of close scores this season.
That thought must have crossed the minds of the Tigers Friday when, with about four minutes to go in the game they found themselves tied with South, 49-49.
Whether it was the pressure, or South's aggressiveness, the Tigers were done in because of foul trouble. Edwardsville committed seven personal fouls in the fourth quarter and South converted eight of 11 free throw attempts.
The most costly of these came with about a minute left in the game. South had just taken a two point lead on Jeff Tretter's field goal.
Edwardsville had a chance to tie the score, but the Tigers' Steve Jackson lost the ball out of bounds.
With 26 seconds showing on the clock, South's Jeff Farker was fouled. His first shot of a one-and-one was good, but he missed the second. It increased South's lead to 56-53.
The final seconds produced a flurry of shots, most free throws resulting from Edwardsville's attempts to regain possession of the ball. But South held on to the ball and the lead, having the Tigers another defeat in a long succession of disappointing losses.
South reversed something of a bothersome trend of its own. One that has troubled it throughout the season. "We didn't play well at home," said South Coach Don Deterding. "I hope this means we're over the hump now."

So Deterding could sympathize with Edward-sville's problems. "It seems like when you lose a lot of close games, you start looking for a way to lose."
The situation was nearly reversed though.

North over Hillsboro

By DOUG IRVIN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY
Granite City North trailed the Hillsboro from Hillsboro throughout almost three full periods before mounting a comeback late in the third quarter which the Steelers rode during the final eight minutes to win 33-28.
North had two scoring giants, juniors Dennis Page and Mike Robertson. They scored 21 and 26 points. Page is a forward and Robertson is a guard.
Mike Home, a junior from Hillsboro, scored 15 of their points and freshman starter Mark Scheibel tallied 12 for the Hillslopers.

Both teams were fairly even in all the starts except in the free throw shooting percentage. Granite made 13 out of 17 shots for 77 percent whereas the Hillslopers were only good for 43 percent, making only six out of 14 shots. Hillsboro shot for 31 percent from the field compared to 47 percent for North. The visiting team turned over the ball 16 times, just once more than did the Steelers.
Half-time score was only 18-14 in favor of Hillsboro.
"It was not the fact that both teams played good defense," said North mentor Bill Ohlendorf. "The pace of the game was set by neither team being able to do much."
"We (Hillsboro) played at a much slower pace tonight," said Harlan Scheibel, coach of the Hillslopers. "We only made two out of eight from the line in the first half. That is why we only scored 18 points then."
North was down by the most they had been behind all game, 26-23, when they mounted their retaliation.

GC coaches see need for tougher slates

CHAMPAIGN — There was something missing from Saturday night's Grand March of Finalists at the Illinois State Wrestling Tournament. A finalist from the Granite City area.
For the first time in several years, Granite City and surrounding area was shut out of championship bout participation. Granite City North Coach Walt
Whitaker and South's Bill Schmitt agree on at least one of the major causes for fewer and fewer finalists from this area.
"We don't have the tough competition day in and day out," said Whitaker. "If you've got a team up in Chicago, you're lucky to get out alive. But down in our area, there aren't that many tough teams to face. That could make a real difference in a close bout."

In an effort to beef up the competition, both North and South schedule a number of St. Louis teams for dual state meets, as well as making a trip to North-Central Illinois once a season. But it's like taking aspirin for a broken finger. The pain might go away, but it'll be back.
"The Missouri schools just can't compare to Illinois in strength," said Schmitt.
"I'm not putting them down (Missouri schools), but look at Riverview Gardens. They won the state championship over there last season, but finished something like fourth or fifth in our (South's) holiday tournament."

Whitaker agrees. "The North County schools are supposed to be the toughest in Missouri," he said. But they'd get slaughtered if they had to come here to this state tournament.
What's the answer? "We have to live with it," said Schmitt. "I'm not saying there aren't some fine teams in our area. But besides the two Belleville schools (East and West), North and Cahokia, there aren't many higher-caliber teams around."
"You can't create your own competition."

Venice tunes up for regional with 2 wins

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
VENICE — The Venice High Red Devils gathered momentum for this week's Freeburg tournament by adding two weekend wins to their 16-9 record. Thursday Venice downed Staunton 72-54, and Saturday the victory was over Sumner, 78-64.
Sumner, coming off a long lay-off imposed by St. Louis teachers' strike, played the Red Devils evenly for three quarters, but faltered in the final period. Venice won 78-64.
After three quarters the score was 52-49. Sumner continued to stay close until about the midway point of the period, when some costly turnovers allowed the Red Devils to open up the score.

With 6:30 left in the game,
Sumner was behind 60-55.
Sumner's Robert Foundry was called for a foul on Venice's Reggie Mathis
while he was shooting.
Mathis' shot was good, as was the following free throw.
Two successive turnovers

by Sumner's Antonio Gray and Derrick Phillips gave Venice the ball, and each time it was converted for field goals. The Red Devils took a 45-55 lead, and Sumner couldn't come back.

Organized mayhem . . .

CHAMPAIGN There was organized mayhem here Friday and Saturday.

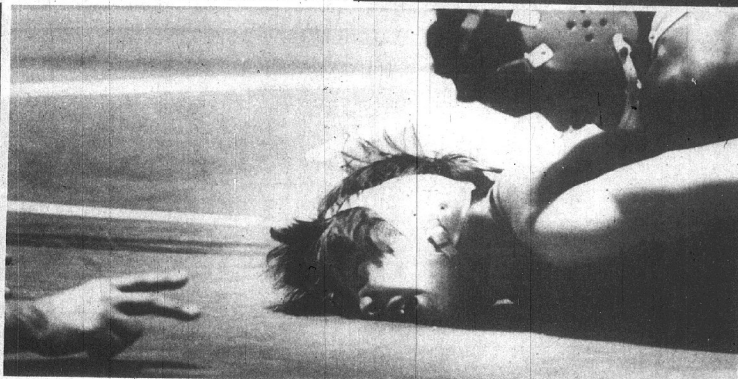

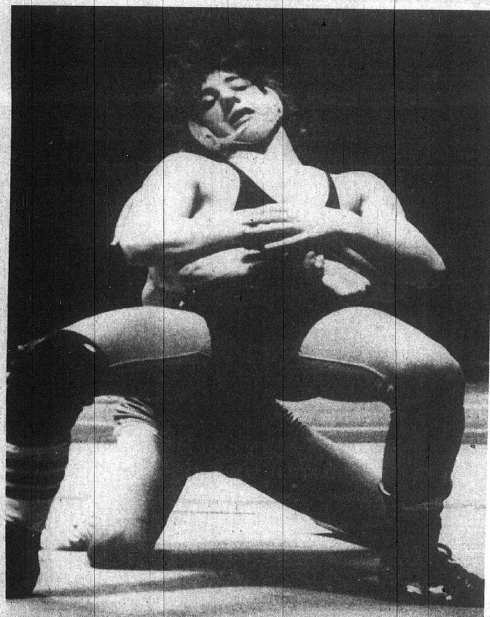

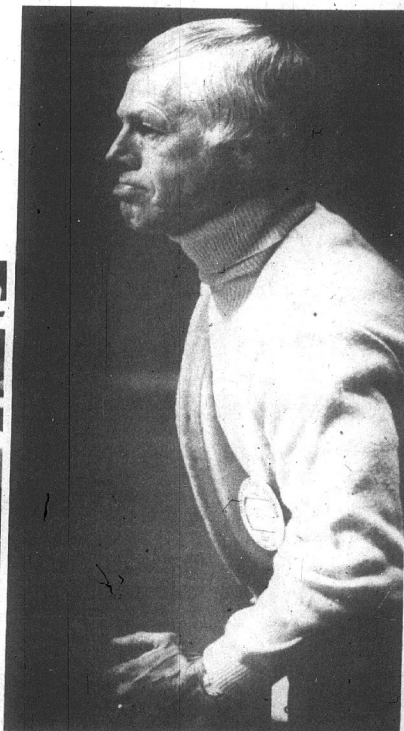

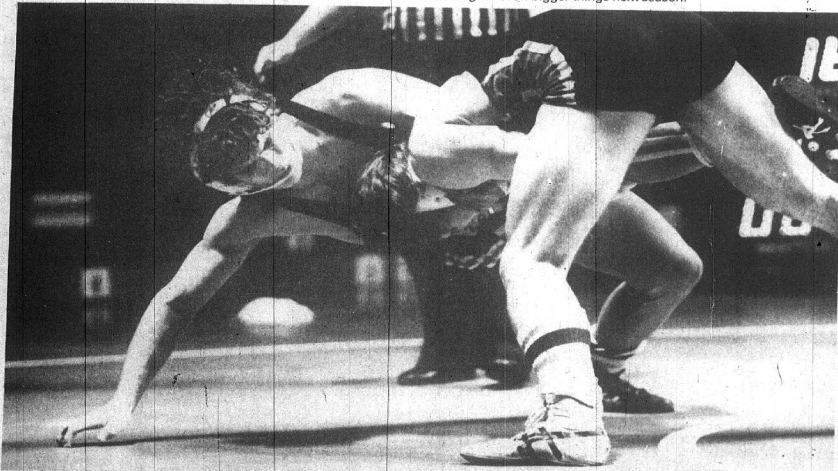

The event was the annual Illinois High School Association Class 2A and 1A wrestling championships. There were eight Granite Cityans involved, four from GCHS North and four from GCHS South.

When it was all over and the smoke cleared, over 200 bouts had taken place, over 32,000 fans had witnessed the action, and Addison Trail (Class 2A) and Savanna (1A) had won the big team trophies. South finished eleventh with 32 points. North had two points.

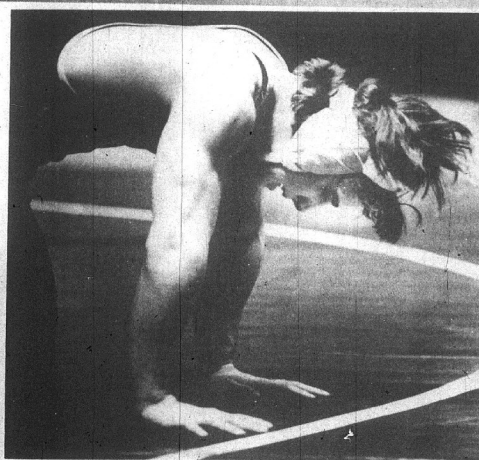

It was disappointing for the four North wrestlers. In all, only one Steeler had a victory in state competition. Bob Kirgan won his preliminary round bout, but was beaten in the first round.

South had two place-getters. Sophomore 145-pounder Dean Perkins finished third in his weight class, while senior Barry Forshee was sixth at 126 pounds.

But GCHS North Coach Walt Whitaker wasn't too disheartened. He will be getting back three of the four wrestlers who went to state next season. South Coach Bill Schmitt isn't disappointed, either. With Perkins being only a sophomore, he's looking for even bigger things next season.

said that Sumner's lay-off probably had a lot to do with that team's fourth quarter slump. "They had a lot of momentum going before the strike," he said. "They were beating people by 40 points. They played us even for the first three, but they just gave out in the fourth. They just weren't in as good shape. They've been off a long time."

Although at a height disadvantage, Venice handled Sumner's big men well. Ron Salmond and Ricky Jones of Venice kept Sumner's 6'9" center Phillips in check with some tough defense under the basket.

Phillips did score 16 points on the night, but as Perkins said, "Any time you have a guy 6'9" he's going to just jump around and score points." While effectively neutralizing Sumner's strength, the Red Devils strength, the Red Devils popped away at Sumner. Venice held a 34-29 halftime lead.

The previous Thursday's game was much the opposite. Venice met Stanton, greeting it with a 40-point first half performance. Stanton could manage only 24. The second half, though, was less one-sided, and the final was a 72-54 Venice win.

According to Perkins, Venice expected Stanton to go with a running offense. Stanton didn't disappoint the Devils. The press which the Red Devils employed to counter the running game was ineffective, and finally abandon as Stanton consistently beat it.

But despite the failure of the press, Venice had little trouble overcoming Stanton. Especially in the first half. The first quarter saw Venice outscore Stanton, 16-

10. By the half it was 40-24.

In the second half Stanton played more evenly, actually outscoring Venice in the third quarter, 18-16, but down so far at the half, it was far too little. The final score was 72-54.

Class A Regionals set to start this week

GRANITE CITY — Both Madison and Venice will get their first tastes of post-season play Wednesday in the Freeburg Class 1A (small school) regional tournament.

Venice will face tough Lovejoy of Brooklyn in the first game Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., while Madison will play against the winners of tomorrow (Tuesday) night's Freeburg-Columbia game. The championship of the tournament will be Friday, pitting the winners of Thursday's two semifinals games.

Madison has been seeded first and gets a first round bye. But the Trojans knew they won't walk away with the First place trophy. Venice, a team Madison thumped 69-66 early in the season, has been the surprise team of the season, having won 15 of its last 19 games, including victories over St. Louis Central and Sumner (two tough St. Louis Public High teams) as well as a three-point loss at East St. Louis Senior last week.

The Red Devils began their winning ways in the same gym that the regional is being played in at Freeburg, placing second in the Freeburg Holiday Tournament.

Madison, meanwhile, is coasting along with a first place ranking the Associated Press state-wide poll of sportswriters and will be looking for a second trip to the Champaign state finals in the last three years.

Madison won the state championship in 1977. Venice advanced to the Vandalla Sectional Tournament next week.

Bills thump Cougars

EDWARDSVILLE — About the only consolation the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team got from its 109-49 loss Saturday night to St. Louis University* was the belief that if it could play the Bills at home it might have beaten them.

Now 13-12 after their devastating loss to St. Louis, the Cougars still have an outside chance of qualifying for a berth in the NCAA division II midwest regional tournament. That is, if they can win their next two games: this Wednesday night at home to McKendree College and Friday night at Normal, Ill., with the Red Birds of Illinois State U., furnishing the opposition.

This season, Coach Jim Dudley, whose Cougars played 15 of their first 16 games on the road, saw his charges bounce back and post victories over Rockhurst College, the University of Missouri, Kansas City, Indiana State-Evanville, and Kentucky Wesleyan after losing to each of them on the road.

Dudley was, to put it mildly, furious at the of ficiating in the Cougars' game with the Bills. His comments can't be printed in a family newspaper.

At the end of the first half, SIUE trailed SLU, 45-28, the Bills were helped no little in building the margin with a 15-20 effort from the free throw line as the Cougars were only three of five. For the entire game, the Bills did handsomely at the charity line, 31 of 42, which made 13 of 18. In less than three minutes into the game, the three (yes, that's correct) officials working the game had whistled four fouls on the Cougars.

The Bills knew, too, that they had to stop the Cougars' dead-end guard, Keil Peebles, who has been in the top five all four years in college. The nation's free throw leaders. It wasn't until just 5:16 minutes remained in the game that Peebles was given his first free throw. Even at that, the little Johnson City, Ill., native led all the game's scorers with 22 points. It will no doubt be the middle of March before Peebles' black and blue marks from the game will disappear. He was hit every

In addition to the fouls situation, the Cougars had two tough breaks dealt them: No. 1, their second highest scorers, senior Benny Lewis, although he started after being out four games, was obviously not up to his high standard of play and secondly, No. 2, was that they were way off their customary high mark of shooting from the floor. That first half, for instance, although they managed to get off 38 shots to the Bills' 20, the Cougars were able to connect only 11, while St. Louis U. marksmen were making 15 of theirs.

For the entire game, the difference was even more demoralizing for the Cougars, that is: SLU made good on 39 of 63 shots, while the Cougars, who went into the game with a season per game average of .469, could make good on a mere 28 of 62.

Craig Shaver, hitting on nine of 15 shots and pouring in three of four from the stripe, paced the Bills with 21 points.

Testimony by final defense witnesses

Attorney Bruce Cook of Belleville concluded his defense on behalf of former sheriff John Maeras at the federal trial in Alton by calling to the stand last week Ronald E. Hoover.

Hoover, of Edwardsville, an insurance claims adjuster, testified he had voluntarily contacted Cook to tell him about his acquaintance with Maeras in 1970 and 1971.

Hoover said he lived in the same apartment building with Maeras at 412 Union in Edwardsville during that period and testified that Maeras asked him on two occasions if he would go in taverns on Collinsville Road and see if he could be solicited for prostitution, and then testify against the club owners.

Hoover said he declined the offer, adding that he was married. Cook, who had called several witnesses the day before, then rested the defense of Maeras.

John Cooper's attorney, H. Carl Runge of Collinsville, called two witnesses as Cooper's defense. Conrad "Pete" Baetz of Wood River testified that he was elected treasurer of the former deputies' association in 1974 and implemented bookkeeping forms to give the association more information on funds being collected and disbursed by Stoller Enterprises.

Baetz said that Maeras, on several occasions, expressed "misgivings" about the way in which the firm was making solicitations.

Under cross-examination by Cass Weiland, Baetz said he "at times" would sign blank association checks and leave them at the office of the association to be used in paying bills related to the solicitation.

Weiland showed him checks issued to John Cornwell, an employee of Leland Stoller, and to Stoller, which Baetz said he believed were filled out by Mrs. Dolly Livingston, secretary for Stoller Enterprises.

Baetz agreed that, in one interview with federal agents, he said that if anyone did "skim" anything from the solicitation proceeds, "it would be Stoller." But an objection to the remark from Michael Costello was upheld by Judge J. Waldo Ackerman and the jury was advised to disregard the statement.

H. Carl Runge then called James Parker of Granite City, a federal probation and parole officer of the U.S. Department of Justice, who testified he has been Charlene "Kitty" Young's probation officer since May 19, 1978.

Asked if Mrs. Young had ever told him she made a mistake in her testimony at Ronald Grzywacz's June-July 1978 trial, Parker answered, "Not to my recollection."

Runge then rested his defense on Cooper's behalf. In a final rebuttal, Weiland called Marshall "Zeke" Smith, a former Madison County assistant state's attorney, to the stand.

Smith said he joined Maeras, former chief deputy Robert Rizzi and Deputy Bud Kendall on an "inspection trip" of Collinsville Road taverns in 1972, and didn't see the owner of the Club J. Walter Young, give an envelope of money to Maeras.

Young's wife, Charlene, had testified earlier she saw her husband give an envelope of money to Maeras during that visit.

Asked if Mrs. Young was present during the visit, Smith stated, "It's my best recollection she was there." But he added, "I wouldn't bet my life that she was there."

Smith said that after a May 1972 raid on Myrene's Steakhouse in Alton, Maeras called him and asked him to arrange a lie detector test for Cooper, since Cooper's name allegedly was found in a telephone notebook at Myrene's.

Smith said he declined to give Cooper a lie detector test, "by my judgment," because, "definitely, I thought he was clean, and for other reasons."

Weiland asked him what the other reasons were, and Smith said Cooper was under the Merit Commission, which would have made it difficult to fire him, had he failed the test.

He also said Myrene's had been closed "for good," and most of the Collinsville Road taverns which housed prostitution were being closed.

Smith also testified that he participated in a raid on Myrene's and did not see Cooper's name in any telephone notebook there.

Cook then invoked a privilege called sur-rebuttal, which allows the defense to call witnesses after the prosecution has completed its rebuttal.

Cook called Rizzi, who said he was involved in inspection of the Club J with Maeras, Kendall and Smith, and didn't see Walter Young give an envelope or anything to Maeras.

Rizzi said he did not recall Mrs. Young being present but, in cross-examination, Weiland intimated that Rizzi had been looking at an attractive young barnmaid and stated, "There could have been another woman in there." Rizzi did not disagree.

All sides then rested their cases. Judge Ackerman informed the jury that the evidence in the case had been concluded, and noted that a day would be required (Thursday) for him and the attorneys to reach agreement on the instructions which should be given to the jurors before their deliberations.

He ordered the jury to return at 9 a.m. Friday for closing arguments, final instructions and then the reaching of verdicts.

Vandal floods home basement

Al Delgado of Mitchell, owner of property at 1829 Edison Ave., informed police last week that someone had entered the basement at the Edison address and opened a valve on the main water line. When he discovered the vandalism, between six and eight inches of water covered the basement floor, causing damage to a gas hot water heater and two furnaces. Delgado said he had checked the house five days earlier after tenants vacated the property and found everything in order at that time.

Downtown Lenten services

Three downtown churches, Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, and the First United Presbyterian Church, will host combined Lenten Services again this year.

The first two services will begin with Ash Wednesday, Feb. 28, and Wednesday, March 7, beginning at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. William Mathae officiating. The Rev. William Chrystal, pastor of St. Peter's, will conduct the Wednesday, March 14, and Wednesday, March 21, 7:30 p.m. services at the church located at 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard. Final observances scheduled for Wednesday, March 28, and Wednesday, April 4, at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Ave., with the Rev. David Maxton in charge. Child care will be provided at each of the churches during the worship hour, the ministers announced.

THIRD BURGLARY
Items valued at about $825 were taken during a burglary at the home of Kenneth Marchbanks, 942 Cote Brillante, Mitchell, which was discovered Thursday. The victim said it was the third burglary of his home in the last six months. A bedroom window was broken to gain entry. Taken were a $300 collection of belt buckles, a combination radio-tape player, a set of wrenches and a pair of cowboy boots.

Pamela Simpson weds Alan Edward Warfield

Miss Pamela Joy Simpson became the bride of Alan Edward Warfield in a candlelight ceremony on Nov. 25 at the Mitchell United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Jeffery Cheadle officiated at the double ring service at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Simpson, 209 Greenway Drive, Mitchell. The groom is a son of Bud Warfield, 1 Petunia Ave., and Mrs. Ron Belt, 2221 H. Hulen, Metairie, La.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white organza A-line style gown designed with a high Chantilly lace collar, fitted bodice with a sheer yoke traced with a lace ruffle, and lace bishop sleeves.

Her long skirt featured an apron effect created with wide lace and an organza chapel train.

She wore a Juliet headpiece of Chantilly lace and seed pearls to hold in place a lace edge fingertip veil. The bridal bouquet was composed of pink and blue carnations, white rose buds and baby's breath.

Mrs. Pamela Nudelman, matron of honor, wore a full length pastel blue georgette dress featuring a white Chantilly lace trim on the bodice and royal blue velvet cuffs on the long sleeves.

Matching lace accented the waistline and the gathered flounce at the hemline of the full skirt.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Kathy Simpson, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Kim Chastain, and the flower girl was Diane Becker, the bride's cousin.

They wore identical styled gowns as the honor attendant in pink and burgandy hues. Each attendant wore a headpiece of tiny blue carnations and they held bouquets of pink and blue carnations and baby's breath. The flower girl carried a basket of pink and blue blossoms.

Jeffery Sherman attended the groom as best man, Don Illies, Don Lucy, Cary Simpson, the bride's brother, Kevin Hayes and Terry Page completed the corps of groomsmen and usher.

Kirk Allmon, a cousin of the bride, served as the ringbearer.

Mrs. Simpson, mother of the bride, selected a formal length burgandy Qiana gown, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Bell selected a floor length copper Qiana dress.

A reception was held at the Polish Hall in Madison after the service.

Both young people are North High School graduates, and they are now residing in Morton, Ill., where the groom is employed at Service Transportation in East Peoria.

MR. AND MRS. ALAN WARFIELD. They were married in a candlelight ceremony at the Mitchell United Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Miss Pamela Joy Simpson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Simpson, 209 Greenway Drive.

Sorority publishes cookbook

At the latest meeting of the Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, it was announced that a new cookbook, entitled "The Dining Room," will be published, for the chapter. The chapter met last week at the home of Betty Thomas.

A thank-you note was read from the Granite City School Board for the $100 donation the chapter gave for special education.

Shriner's Hospital also sent an appreciation note for a $1,200 donation.

It was announced that the next ways and means project will be held during April and May.

The cultural program for the evening was a group discussion on "Home," led by Amy Brasfield. Members contributed comments and opinions on home and family lives of 100 years ago to the present.

Members present were Cheryl Barton, Carol Moerlien, Amy Brasfield, Marcy Johnson, Rhonda Dooley, and the hostess.

At the next meeting, March 6, in the home of Mrs. Moerlien, representatives from Shriner's Hospital will give a presentation on the Burn Center.

Charades were played and dessert was served by the hostess to Mesdames May Ebling, Evelyn Tolliver, Lora Mae Lombardi, Dolores Byrnes, Pat Tsigalaroff, Martha Jean Dyer, Jane Laule, Ruth Stoyanoff, Arlene Haldeman, and Dolores Dorch.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Byrnes, it was noted.

Mrs. Forrest hosts meeting

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held their regular meeting at the home of Imogene Forrest, President.

May Ebling presided at the business meeting.

The closing ritual was followed by a program on "Economics," presented by Arlene Haldeman. She discussed careers embarked upon after reaching the age of 35. All members contributed comments.

Chaplain Delores Weiss led the group in prayer. Donations were made to the Wilson School PTA to help with expenses for a child abuse program to be held on March 9 at 7 p.m. at the Granite City High School South auditorium.

Dr. Armand E. Brodeur, a nationally-known expert on child abuse, will be the speaker.

The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and the Epilepsy Foundation also were sent donations.

Dolores Weiss was elected as poppy chairman. "Poppy days" will be May 25 and 26.

Those present were Mrs. Weathers, Katy Barks, Mary Harned, Connie Jacob, Ruby Cooper, Shirley Kowalk, Dorothy Kowalk, Mrs. Weiss, Shirley Clark, Marge Rhodes, Donna Tanner, Vicky Elmore, Evelyn McKittrick, Loretta Goeller, Esther McCusky, Patsy Dickey, Alma Klaus, Doris Stout and Doris Hitchcock.

The ladies served a luncheon yesterday for oratorical contestants and parents.

The next meeting will be Feb. 28 at 8 p.m.

Your home can win a merit badge

The National Energy Watch decal is an award well worth earning.

It's given by Illinois Power to customers whose homes meet high standards for energy efficiency.

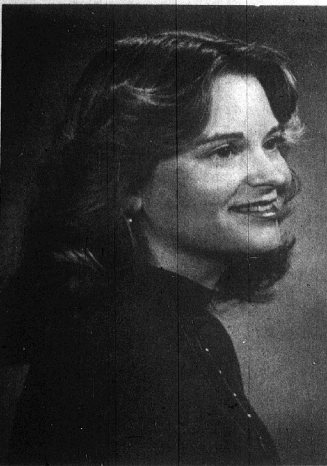

What is National Energy Watch? It's a national program in which Illinois Power and utility companies throughout the U.S. are helping customers improve the energy efficiency of their homes.

What's in it for you? When your home qualifies for the National Energy Watch award, you'll enjoy better, more comfortable living all year around. You'll be getting maximum efficiency from your energy dollars. You'll make a contribution to the national effort to conserve energy and upgrade the value of your home at the same time.

How can you qualify? Call or visit the Energy Use Advisor at our office. He'll arrange for an energy audit of your home, which will include specific recommendations, if needed, for bringing your home up to the thermal construction standards of the National Energy Watch. When your home qualifies, you'll be awarded a certificate of membership and a window decal.

The red, white and blue National Energy Watch decal is a "merit badge" you can display with pride.

Miss Cottrell betrothed

The engagement of Miss Cheryl Cottrell and John Conboy was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cottrell, 53 Villa Drive, at a dinner party in honor of the couple.

Conboy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Conboy, 7338 Devonshire, St. Louis.

Miss Cottrell is a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School and a 1975 graduate of Greenville College.

Her fiancé graduated from DuBois High School in St. Louis and is now employed as a general contractor in St. Louis.

A fall wedding is being planned by the couple.

ENGAGED. Miss Cheryl Cottrell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cottrell, 53 Villa Drive, will become the bride of John Conboy of St. Louis next fall.

(Hollywood Andrews Studio)

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mayes were married Nov. 17 at Community Heights Assembly of God Church. She is the former Miss Teresa Crites, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Crites, of Glen Carbon.

Teresa Crites weds Wayne Landon Mayes

Miss Teresa Lynn Crites, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Crites, Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, became the bride of Wayne Landon Mayes, 10% Red Rose, Collinsville, Nov. 17. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Camp at Community

Heights Assembly of God Church.

The bride chose Miss Linda Peterson as her maid of honor.

Dennis Mayes, a cousin of the groom, served as best man. Greg Griggs was an usher.

The newly-married couple will reside in Collinsville.

North orientation

Granite City High School North will hold an orientation program for the 1979 incoming freshmen and their parents on Monday evening, March 5.

This program is to acquaint new students and their parents with the school curriculum.

Following a short general meeting, students and their parents will have the opportunity to visit as many as four different sessions where the chairmen of various departments will explain the curriculum in their area. The sessions are scheduled to run approximately 15 minutes each.

The program will be from 7 to 8:45 p.m. and the general meeting will begin in the cafeteria at 7 p.m. Parents and students are to assemble in the cafeteria at that time.

Attendance at this orientation program will help to minimize any apprehensions students or parents may have regarding high school. It will also provide an opportunity to meet administrators, many of the staff members, and the counselors. Counselor Albert W. Rowden, said.

LOOT COIN BOX

All coins deposited for one week in a jukebox in the lounge at Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road, were taken from the coin box, it was discovered at 1:10 p.m. Thursday by an employee. The machine is owned by the P. S. Amusement Co.

Cuba talk by Shaw

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of SIUE, will give his "Reflections of Cuba" at a meeting Thursday of the Association of Scholars. The address is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

The Association of Scholars is a newly organized group of the 20 original presidential scholars and their mentors. Other honor students with a 4.5 grade point average and the recommendation of two faculty members are eligible to join.

Dr. Shaw was one of a delegation of 20 state college and university presidents who toured Cuba in December on an educational mission arranged by the Cuban Ministry of Superior Education.

CPR course successful

Mrs. Kathleen Reed, president of the Eagles Auxiliary, announced that the cardiopulmonary resuscitation life-saving course held in January had favorable results, and that next year another CPR course will be held.

At the February meeting, she thanked all who had worked at the Eagles district gathering. A memorial service was held for Mrs. Violet Bader.

Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Dolores Sanders were escorted to the altar and were presented with valentine gifts from the Auxiliary.

Refreshments were served by the quilting club and prizes were won by Mrs. Leona Delaloye and Mrs. Cora Barr.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY BEST were married in a candlelight ceremony Dec. 15. Formerly Katherine Lynn Crumbley, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Crumbley, 2201 Lynch Ave.

Katherine Crumbley and Larry D. Best are wed

Miss Katherine Lynn Crumbley became the bride of Larry Dean Best in a candlelight ceremony at St. John's United Church of Christ, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. The former Miss Crumbley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Crumbley, 2201 Lynch Ave.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Best, 119 Park Drive, Edwardsville.

The bride was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father to an altar decorated with baskets of palms and poinsettias. She chose a formal length white organza gown fashioned with a high neckline. The bodice was traced with Venice lace, as were the long fitted sleeves.

Her A-line skirt swept gracefully into a chapel train edged with Venice lace, and she wore a matching white length lace veil of bridal illusion.

She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, pink silk jasmine, white miniature carnations tied with white satin streamers. Her maid of honor, Miss wedding maid of honor, Miss Joyce Radcliff, and bridesmaids Miss Joy Patrick, Rhonda Hunter, Jan Zoelzer, a sister of the groom, and Junior Bridesmaid Miss Shari Crumbley, a sister of the bride, were attired in identically styled gowns of cranberry knit.

The gowns were accented by full length hooded coats trimmed in white fur. They carried white fur muffs with arrangements of red miniature carnations and red ribbons, attached.

The groom chose Loren Best, his brother, as best man. Steve Halley, Tom Zoelzer, a brother-in-law of the groom, Phil Strader and Ronnie Counts served as groomsmen. Butch Stefanoff and Danny Counts were ushers.

Misty Black was chosen as flower girl and Matt Strader was ringbearer. She carried a basket of red silk roses and baby's breath with red bows attached.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Polish Hall in Madison. Nikki Barr attended the guest book.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School North in 1976, and is now attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her husband graduated from Worden High School in 1980, and is attending Lewis and Clark College. He is employed as a fireman in Edwardsville, where the couple is now residing.

Happy economic, air and energy news at GC Steel

After a "winter of discontent" severe temperatures, icy footing, fuel worries, inflation concern and foreign policy failures — it's mighty pleasant to discuss a topic like the $60 million Granite City Steel capital improvement program announced Thursday.

National Steel Corporation's board voted Wednesday afternoon to install a continuous slab-casting machine here to produce a million tons of steel slabs yearly. And it will adapt the two 235-ton basic oxygen furnaces to allow them to use more scrap steel.

The construction work during 1979 and 1980 will give a timely boost to local employment and economic activity and there also may be a favorable impact on employment at the local plant. Certainly, by substantially increasing its investment in the Granite City Steel Division, National Steel is eloquently voicing its confidence in the plant, in the staff that operates it, and in this community.

Already a U.S. and world leader in many facets of steelmaking and continuous casting, National Steel with the local installation will be able to increase slabs to 40 percent of its total steel production and shipments. And its casting of nine-inch-thick slabs in a single strand 49 to 84 inches wide here will reduce reliance on ingots that require reheating.

Significant energy savings and air quality advances are anticipated. And the huge improvement project — like the many that have preceded it over a long period of time — keeps Granite City Steel in the front ranks technologically modern, viable, efficient and uniquely skilled and equipped to serve the steel-consuming public.

City to consider added anti-water-pollution role

The City of Granite City — already deeply involved in water pollution control through its operation of a regional primary-secondary sewage treatment plant — is pondering whether to enact a resolution shouldering an additional responsibility for adherence to Federal Water Pollution Control Act amendments.

Placed on first reading last week, the document is to be considered for adoption tomorrow night after an explanation and question-and-answer period to clarify specific obligations.

The proposal includes Granite City representation in a regional anti-water-pollution advisory board. Word was received that the state has approved without change the latest modification in plans for a new 18th Street bypass. A call for construction bids is projected for June, although initial efforts to obtain additional federal funding have been unsuccessful.

Energy aid agreement

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission announced Saturday that Illinois Power Co. and the MCEOC have reached an agreement which will allow Illinois Power customers to participate in the emergency energy assistance program. The applications will be taken on a first come-first served basis.

Madison County EOC has contacted funding sources and a Congressional representative to inquire if more money can be made available, inasmuch as the number of people applying is greater than last year, a spokesman said.

Applications are being received from 30 to 40 households throughout the county. This will continue until the funds are exhausted.

Mrs. Sadler wounded fatally

Mrs. Kathy Ann (Lincoln) Sadler, 28, of 2211 E. 24th St., was found dead in the kitchen bath; written to him by his wife.

The husband said the couple was in the process of becoming divorced and Mrs. Sadler was intending to leave the house that day.

Indications were that she had been packing some items, and a neighbor was called to the house by Sadler after he discovered his wife's body and notified police. A city ambulance also was dispatched to the residence.

The same neighbor, a friend of Mrs. Sadler, said the young woman had called him on the phone at about 1:30 p.m. and asked the neighbor to come over to the Sadler home.

She was unable to go there at that time, the neighbor said. She returned Mrs. Sadler's call at 2:30 p.m. but failed to get an answer.

Mrs. Sadler was a registered nurse. She had worked in private duty nursing.

She was born in Pocahontas, Ark., and resided in South Roxana before coming here.

She gave Mr. Pirie the weapon, but did not give him any ammunition, she said.

She said Mr. Pirie had been planning to move from his South Roxana address before March 1.

Mrs. Pirie went to the Iowa home at 6:40 p.m. Sunday to get clothing. Her husband was seated on the front porch when she arrived, with the pistol laying on top of a catalogue nearby.

As she was leaving, Mr. Pirie asked her husband if he should pick him up for work the next day. He answered there was no reason to do so, she said.

The couple debated this point for a while until Mrs. Pirie said she would come to the house at 7:30 a.m. today and, if the porchlight was still on, she would wait for him.

She said her husband had been working for about a week at a local plant, but was not happy with the factory job.

He was not seriously injured, but as police approached the wrecked car, Douglas pointed Clemons' 357 magnum service revolver into his mouth and pulled the trigger, killing himself, deputies said.

Clemons was unable to use the car's police radio without the keys, so he activated his citizen band radio with electricity from the cigarette lighter and summoned help. "I forgot until later that I had my police walkie-talkie in the car," Clemons noted.

Police located the car Douglas was driving, watched it with an unmarked car and a police helicopter until squad cars could converge on it, and then began a high-speed chase which ended as Douglas crashed the car into a tree in front of Edwardsville High School.

Founders are honored at Frohardt

Frohardt School PTA held its monthly meeting last week, with Founders Day as the theme.

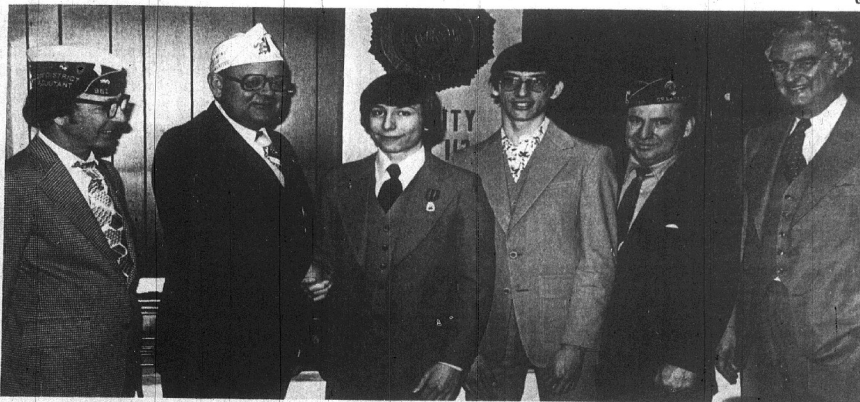

Historian Jack Nemeth read a clipping from the Press-Record dated in September 1957 regarding the founding of the PTA at Frohardt School. A display of scrapbooks also was available for review.

President John Fuhrman announced the past PTA presidents and presented the school library with a world atlas in their honor.

Other business discussed included scholarship award presentations, success of the "country jamboree" held Feb. 16, and Campbell's labels-for-education program.

Fifth and sixth grade students presented a disco dance program directed by Miss Susan Smith, physical education teacher. In addition to the students' dance routines, the parents joined in to learn disco dancing.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by the second and third grade room mothers. About 125 people attended. The next meeting will be March 20.

From left are: James Menendez, Dept. of Illinois Americanism Commission; Remert; Kastelic; Brad Crews, the other competitor in the Division competition; Dave Clark, commander of Tri-City Post 113, and Attorney Burton Bernard, the first person from the Quad-Cities to win the state competition and later the national Legion oratorical contest. Mark's brother, Jon, won the state event last year. (Press-Record Photo)

Suspect arson

Arson is suspected as the cause of a fire which damaged a vacant one-story brick building at 2000 Hidebrand Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, last week.

Neighbors reported the fire was the third in two weeks in the structure and arson is suspected in all three fires. The building is owned by Florence Yokal of Greenville, Mo., and is being demolished by Charles Walker, 2112 Alton Ave., Cloverleaf Addition.

Nameoki Presbyterian Lenten services set

The warm and informal atmosphere of the home will provide the setting for fellowship discussion groups being organized in the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. According to the pastor, the Rev. Don F. Pierson, "The Touch of His Hand" will offer an appropriate guide for the discussion groups. The groups will meet on Thursday evenings beginning March 1 from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Every family in the congregation is being invited to take part. Rev. Pierson added.

"How to Live in a Hungry World" will be shown at the Ash Wednesday sacrificial soup supper, Feb. 28. The event begins at 6:15 p.m. and will conclude with the celebration of the Lord's Supper. There will be the initial distribution of the Love Loaves at this time, to be completed on Sunday, March 4. The Lenten offering will go towards world hunger, disaster relief, local hunger programs, and Mobile Meals, according to the minister.

A new member seminar will be conducted by the pastor during Lent. This will be held on Tuesday evenings at 7 p.m. for any one interested in considering the claims of Christ and the Bible. It is open to all inquirers, according to the Rev. Pierson.

Several gifts were presented to the honoree, plus cards and letters of appreciation, followed by a taped greeting from the Rev. and Mrs. George Sagan, Greenville, Tex., a former pastor and his wife. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Mildred Kendall, Greenville, Ill., Gary and Marie Seabough, Sorensen, and Raymond and Georgia Kendall, Smithboro, Ill.

Church honors music director Elvin Kendall

The congregation of the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, observed Elvin Kendall Day at the church on appreciation of Kendall's 22 years as music director at the church.

At a morning service, he was presented with a leather-bound hymnal and a certificate of appreciation by the pastor, Marvin Peter, followed by singing of the 23rd Psalm by Norma Mendoza.

That evening, a pot luck supper preceded a program led by Milburn Wright. A message of appreciation on tape was heard from the Rev. Ray Eitelman, former pastor and now a missionary to Upper Volta, Africa.

Sam Carson and Jack Douglas spoke on "Memories." A piano tribute was played by Jewel Thelmer, church organist, and a vocal tribute was sung by his daughter, Gail Kendall, accompanied by Sandy Baker.

PARTICIPANTS IN ED'S BACK CLASS are encouraged to relax. Mickey Hunter, above, responds to directions from Ed Mercer, below, to relax and move slowly.

Back hurt? Try Ed's easy exercise class

The lights are turned down low. Only they are in the large room. He speaks softly, encouraging the little group to relax.

Easing tension is the whole point. Part of the problem can be attributed to the pressure under which many people live. That pressure can cause tension, which in turn may manifest itself in one of man's worst enemies, the backache.

The little group is taking part in a special exercise program currently going on at the Tri-City Area YMCA (876-7200) under the direction of Ed Mercer, physical director. The class is intended to help ease the pain that some people have in their backs.

According to studies conducted at the Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York City, approximately 83 percent of all back pain is caused by a combination of muscular-skeletal deficiencies and stress. It is the 83 percent that Mercer's program can help.

The "Y" tests those who want to enter the program, using the six-item Kraus-Weber test to find the strengths and weaknesses of each participant.

The exercises are done stressing relaxation. A muscle cannot stretch unless it is relaxed; hence, the atmosphere.

A specially designed mat is used and Mercer keeps things nice and easy. Voices are kept low and participants keep their eyes closed through most of the exercising.

The class goes on for six weeks. Participants are exercising at the "Y" twice a week and working at home on assigned exercises when they are not at the facility.

There are six exercises at the very beginning of the course. Exercises are added weekly, and by the end of the program participants are doing 35 different exercises.

Each movement is repeated no more than three times — no "twenty push-ups" for an aching back.

The point is to avoid and get rid of pain. Muscle soreness is avoided in this manner.

The program incorporates three distinct patterns of exercise — relaxation, gentle muscle toning and muscle stretching.

The classes are limited to 15 so that the instructor can give individual attention to the participants.

Mercer said the exercises are so simple and so relaxing that members of the class are often ready for sleep after a session.

"If the exercises are done right," he said, "they can get rid of the pain and discomfort. They are so easy that some people wonder how they can possibly work, but data studies done on a group of back pain sufferers showed that 88 percent of them were relieved."

There are no overnight cures, according to Mercer.

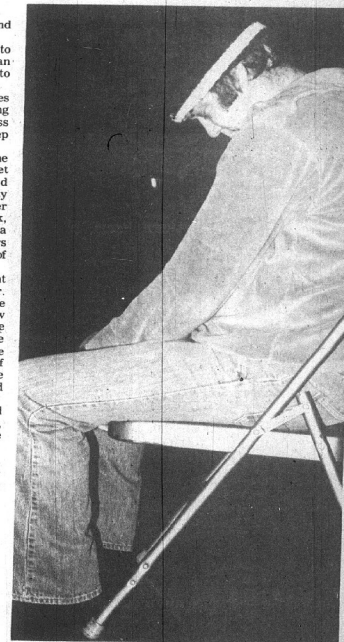

"Some of those who are under a lot of stress show good results in a short time just by learning to relax," he said. "But by the time we are in the fourth or fifth week of the course, most of the participants show marked improvement."

"The idea is to relax and move slowly," he continued, "so close your eyes and take it nice and easy."

"Tension got you into this, and getting rid of that tension is a big part of the course."

168,000 takeoffs, landings at Parks

During 1978, Bi-State Parks Airport ranked second only to Lambert International Airport as the area's busiest aviation center. Between January and December, over 168,000 takeoffs and landings were recorded at Parks.

Bi-State Parks Airport, located near Cahokia, Ill., is an all-weather, full-service airport.

The facility is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with a control tower manned from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. One hundred fifty aircraft are based at Parks Airport, which can accommodate aircraft as large as a twin-engine Gulfstream.

This past year, the airport was awarded a total of $3.8 million for facilities improvements, considered essential to the airport's continued growth as a regional general aviation facility.

The projects, which combine funds from the Economic Development Administration, the Federal Aviation Administration, the Illinois Department of Transportation-Division of Aeronautics, and the Bi-State Development Agency, will allow Bi-State Parks Airport to complete a major portion of its overall development plan originally prepared in April 1977.

The grants will provide for expanding aircraft parking facilities, a new airport access road, a new terminal building, and a railroad overpass.

Acquisition of additional land for runway approach zone protection will assure that land adjacent to the airport remains undeveloped by high-rise or industrial projects that could block the runway, a spokesman said.

Additional safety measures are provided by instrument landing equipment necessary to accommodate major air carrier activity, including an approach light system, a glide slope and a middle marker.

Also during 1978, Bi-State Parks Airport came to an agreement with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, allowing the EPA to locate an air-monitoring facility on a half-acre of airport property.

"The project is at no cost to the Bi-State Development Agency and will be of value to the regional community by monitoring and recording air pollutant levels."

"Bi-State Parks Airport is committed to improving service to the metropolitan area," according to Larry Mullendore, airport manager.

"The new projects will bring us closer to our goal."

TRUCK IS LOOTED

Items valued at about $355 were stolen from the pickup truck of Merle McDaniels, 5209 Maryville Road, parked in front of his home, it was discovered Thursday. A vent window was broken to gain entry. Taken were a tool box and tools, a CB radio and the cigarette lighter. Damage to the truck was estimated at $75 to $100.

ELIZABETH HUTSON daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Hutson, 2705 Angela Drive, she has been selected as a finalist in the 1979 Illinois National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Decatur March 23-25.

'Miss Hutson state entrant

Miss Elizabeth Ann Hutson, 17, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Hutson, 2705 Angela Drive, has entered and been accepted as a finalist in the 1979 Illinois National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held at the Holiday Inn of Decatur March 23-25.

It is the official state preliminary to the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta in August.

Sue Jones of Pekin, Ill., 17, Illinois National Teen-Ager will crown the new state queen.

Miss Hutson at Granite City High School North was active in National Honor Society, Future Homemakers of America, Future Secretaries of America and the Co-op program.

Her hobbies include gymnastics, tennis, cake decorating and crocheting, and she likes to make rugs and to swim. She is being sponsored by Irwin Chapel of Granite City.

The winner of the Illinois National Teen-Ager Pageant will receive a $3,000 scholarship from Eureka College, Eureka, Ill., along with a $500 cash scholarship, a full tuition scholarship to Barbours School of Modeling in Chicago, and an all-expense-paid trip to Atlanta to compete in the national pageant.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise, personality and beauty. There are no swimsuit or talent categories.

Regulations said to block intent of job-creating tax incentive law

With area industry representatives looking on, legislative members of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules last week objected to sales tax exemption regulations proposed by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

"When our companies first examined these proposed rules, it became evident there were serious problems," according to Robert J. Walters, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association.

"For example," he explained, "the rules contained unclear definitions, vague wording and self-contradictions." In addition, Walters alleged, the rules ignore the intent of the General Assembly which passed SB 736 in the last session.

programs; Mary Jesse, entertainment; Mary Sedekum, prize committee, and Shirley Adams, publicity. Not pictured are Shirley Cunningham, Billie Schuler and Barbara Duffin. The event is scheduled for April 21 at Sunset Hills Country Club. Music will be by "Free and Easy." Lois Winter is president of the Women's Division.

Cub leaders preparing for their '79 pow wow

The annual Cub Scout leaders "pow wow" March 24 will seek to provide an opportunity for all cub leaders — experienced or new — to share ideas, learn and to share ideas.

Den leaders, den leader coaches, Webelos den leaders, cubmasters, all their assistants, pack committee members and other interested parents will attend.

The pow wow will be held at Eden United Church of Christ, 903 Second St., Edwardsville.

The cost of $4 per person will include five sections — games, crafts, pack administration, skits and puppets — plus Webelos den and a "blue and gold" luncheon.

Mrs. Pat Foote, vice-president for Cub Scout, is the chairman of the pow wow.

Leaders will exhibit samples of crafts made by Cub Scouts, practice and exchange new game ideas, learn to use new ceremony equipment and ideas, and learn how to relate craft ideas to themes.

For Webelos leaders, it will be an opportunity to share program ideas and resources.

The purpose of Cub Scouting will be emphasized, policies clarified and successful procedures recommended.

The pow wow starts at 9 a.m. with a registration period which includes an opportunity to review pack exhibits and midway games provided by the packs attending. This is followed by a general assembly and formal opening.

Participants then go to the sections, including: Games — how to select and lead quiet, indoor, table, relay, backyard and inter-den games; dual contests; and tricks and puzzles.

Skits and puppets — How to write, produce and stage den skits related to themes. This section includes skits, stunts, icebreakers, charades, pantomimes, and puppets — their use and where to find them.

Mrs. Foote comments, "One of the most useful to the den leader, this section emphasizes the fun of being a boy — the adventure, the ideals, the dreams, the imagination, and the enthusiasm."

The types of Cub Scout handicraft projects: materials; the uses of crafts; how to relate the craft to the theme and to advancement; how crafts start in the den and are finished in the home, and where to find materials, equipment, patterns and ideas.

Pack administration — Ideas exchanged on aids related to pack management, program, special activities, Webelos den organization, pack ceremonies, financing the pack program, the den leader, coach, den chief and uniforms.

Webelos den — Exchange of successful experiences, the guests and acted as to dens, activity badge program resources, and help on common problems.

Boy Scout Troop 13 holds parents' night

Troop 13, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Church, held "parents' night," the program including an induction ceremony in which Jeff Damrath, Chris DeKunz, Dennis and Phil Gaudreault, Edward Golan, Brian and Ken Meyer and Mark Velling were inducted into the troop.

Coming activities were discussed, including a high-terrain Wisconsin national canoe base.

Camp Sunnen

promotional slides were shown by Barry Temple and Nick Tsigoloff of the Order of the Arrow.

Other guests were Ray Gaudette Sr., unit commissioner, Jim Johns, scoutmaster of Troop 43 of Highland, who showed slides from a Wisconsin canoe trip last year, and Mark Velling, cubmaster of Pack 13.

Glenn Hommert, committee chairman, introduced the guests and acted as master-of-ceremonies.

Following the program, refreshments were served.

DAV donates van, $5,000 to hospital

Laurence Lockhart, commander of Disabled American Veterans Chapter 53, announced that the organization has purchased a van to be donated to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for use in the "meals on wheels" program.

During a monthly meeting of the DAV last week, he added that the chapter also has given the medical center a check for $5,000 to purchase a portable x-ray machine.

(A report was submitted on the progress of Mary Gnojewski, 1610 Fifth St.,

Madison, a student at St. Louis University whom the DAV sponsors. A freshman, Miss Gnojewski is a straight-A student.

Other newly-elected officers attending the meeting included Laurence McGuire, senior vice-commander; Earl H. Lungwitz, junior vice-commander; Robert Kennerly, treasurer, and James Miller, chaplain.

IN MEMORY OF
My Husband PERCY
WARD, February 25, 1975.
How can my heart forget
you. When everything I do, is something that reminds me of hours I spent with you. So many things to share with you. Had you been left to stay. Four long years have passed. And my heart still aches for you today. Sadly missed by Pearl. 32 2 26

Home buying pace is brisk

Illinois savings and loan associations loaned record amounts to Illinois families last year for purchase of single-family homes, despite rising mortgage interest rates.

Statewide, in 1978 Illinois associations shattered previous records by lending $5.2 billion for purchase of single-family homes, an increase of four percent over the 1977 total.

Loans made to buy previously occupied homes totaled $4 billion last year, while those for purchase of new homes rose to a record high of $1.2 billion, 14 percent above the previous year.

The figures were compiled by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and were released statewide by the Illinois Savings and Loan League, which represents the bulk of the state's 380 insured savings and loan associations.

In the Madison-St. Clair Counties area, money loaned for single-family home purchases during 1978 totaled $209,545,000, compared to $186,069,000 in 1977. In total, last year the 27 savings and loan associations loaned $291,885,000.

"Home ownership is still the best hedge against inflation. People continue to believe that it is a good investment. Mortgage money will continue to be available this year," said Illinois League President Donald Morton. "Many families feel that it is better to buy now rather than wait for rates to drop, because any savings that result from lower interest rates on the loan will be more than offset by a rise in home prices."

Most of the money lent by savings and loan associations is in mortgages. At year-end 1978, 82.6 percent of Illinois association assets were invested in mortgage loans.

Savings flows showed a net decrease among Illinois savings and loan associations. New savings received by associations last year were the highest on record, an increase of 20 percent over 1977. However, withdrawals increased 41 percent, resulting in a net new savings decrease of 22 percent from the previous year.

Although the Illinois Savings and Loan League considers the net new savings of $1.9 billion received to be a healthy amount, it is a decrease from 1977. The savings slowdown would have been exacerbated by rising short-term interest rates available to investors on the open securities market, but the Federal Home Loan Bank Board authorized associations to issue market certificates June 1, 1978, thus enabling them to compete with open market securities. The new certificates permitted associations to attract new savings and to retain funds.

Mini-mall progress

Plans for the Madison "mini-mall" and the $177,000 federal grant for improvement of the Madison business area are proceeding well, according to Madison Mayor Mike Saasyk.

Mayor Saasyk outlined renovation and building programs in Madison at Wednesday's meeting of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club.

An Alpine-looking shopping center is being designed by the General Design Co. of Greenville.

Mayor Saasyk and members of the City Council, along with City Comptroller Al Hudzik and several others, have been working on improving the business area of Madison for several years.

FACES TWO CHARGES

While they were issuing a traffic citation for driving with an expired license at the Granite City police station, police allegedly found four capsules in a pocket of Michael E. Carney 27, of 2218 E. 24th St., during the weekend. Charged with possession of a controlled substance, he was released on $150 cash bond. He had earlier been involved in a minor traffic accident.
